Vandenberg Calls For Close Tab On Atomic Shipments

By JACK BELL

Washington, June 10 (AP)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) called today for a close military check before atomic materials are sent abroad, even to the friendliest of countries."

The Michigan senator said he wants to be sure that the military liaison committee approves in advance atomic energy commission decisions such as that which sent radioactive isotopes to a research division of the Norwegian military establishment.

"The point is not whether a country is friendly to us," he told a reporter.

The liaison committee is composed of two high ranking officers from each of the Army, Navy and Air Force.

Friendly Nation Favored

Chairman David E. Lilienthal of the atomic agency insisted during an exchange with Vandenberg yesterday that the fact Norway is a friendly country had some bearing in the commission's decision to send it the isotopes.

Lilienthal was appearing before, the Senate-House atomic energy committee as it continued its hearings on charges by Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) of "incredible mismanagement" by the commission chairman.

The congressional group met behind closed doors again today to decide how to carry out the inquiry.

Hickenlooper wants to present evidence that certain key AEC employes—whom he doesn't want to name publicly—have been questioned about their loyalty, associations and character.

The committee has failed twice to decide how the Iowan can go about this, since Lilienthal has protested that any such method identifies the person concerned to his co-workers.

Spy Quizzes Dig Up Sensational Stories

Hot Documents Read In Judith Coplon Case

By The Associated Press

More FBI reports described as "the hottest" of all documents found in Judith Coplon's purse were scheduled to be read in Washington today (Friday) in the espionage case which already has produced a bumper crop of sensations.

Some of the reports have stirred up headline stories that had nothing to do with whether Miss Coplon pilfered government secrets.

Yesterday they indicated (1) The FBI was conducting counter-espionage work in the Russian embassy in Washington, (2) An alleged Communist barber working in the White Sands proving ground in New Mexico was expected to get atomic data for the Russian embassy in Mexico, and (3) A San Francisco Russian language newspaper was subsidized by the Russian government.

Today the barber and the newspaper protested, but the Soviet embassy in Washington was silent.

In New York, the government neared the end of its case against Alger Hiss. It called in more witnesses today to bolster its second charge of perjury against the former state department official.

The trial of 11 Communists accused of conspiring to advocate the forcibile overthrow of the government was adjourned until Monday afternoon, after hearing John Gates, editor of the Daily Worker, admit yesterday that he had lied but history would justify his lie.

Famed Cartoonist McCutcheon Dies

Chicago, June 10 (AP)—John T. McCutcheon, 79, famous cartoonist for the Chicago Tribune for 43 years and former war correspondent, died today at his home in suburban Lake Forest.

McCutcheon, who won the Pulitzer prize for cartoons in 1931, had been ill since 1946 when he retired from active work at the Tribune.

McCutcheon's career as a cartoonist and writer started with the old Chicago Record after his graduation from Purdue university in 1889.

McCutcheon's best known cartoon was "Injun Summer," which was first printed in the Tribune of Sept. 30, 1907. The cartoon was reprinted by request annually each fall in the Tribune since 1912.

His survivors include his widow, the former Evelyn Barr and three sons, John T. Jr., a member of the Tribune editorial staff; Shaw, and George Barr McCutcheon, and a sister, Mrs. Jessie Nelson of Sherman, Conn.

Few newspapermen have covered a beat as extensive as that roamed by John T. McCutcheon.

His assignments as war correspondent and cartoonist took him over the seven seas and to the five continents. They led him into a dozen theatres of war and, in fact, to every corner of the globe where news, romance and mystery lurked.

Mr. McCutcheon's world-wide life of adventure was inaugurated in 1898 when the Record assigned him to the United States dispatch boat McCulloch, on its world tour. He was aboard the McCulloch during the Spanish-American war, the dispatch boat having joined Admiral George Dewey's fleet at Hong Kong. A witness of the battle of Manila Bay, he sent back to the western world the first news story of that American naval victory.

During the greater part of 1899 Mr. McCutcheon made a special tour for his paper through India, Northern China, Korea, and Japan, returning to the Philippine Islands for the fall campaign of that year. By that time he had achieved a reputation as a war correspondent and next was sent to South Africa, where he joined the Boers to report their war with Great Britain.

After a service of fourteen years with the Chicago Record and Record-Herald, Mr. McCutcheon switched to the Chicago Tribune and was that newspaper's feature cartoonist for more than 20 years. In addition he covered the Balkan conflicts, the Boxer uprising in China and various Latin-American revolutions and was with the American forces that occupied Vera Cruz, Mexico, during the revolt against Huerta in 1914.

In the early part of the World War McCutcheon was with the Belgian and German armies and in a German airplane was the first war correspondent to make a flight over the trenches. He covered various campaigns of the war in France and was in Salonica and the Balkans. A second flight over the war area was made in an American plane with Brig. Gen. William Mitchel, which took in the Rhineland territory occupied under Armistice terms.

Coal Diggers May Be Idle Long Time

Pittsburgh, June 10 (AP)—Most of the nation's 450,000 coal miners entered the pits today for the last full production day in at least a week, wondering when they would return.

President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers has ordered a cessation of mining for one week starting Monday to stabilize the industry. Since most miners haven't been working Saturday or Sunday, idleness will begin tomorrow for many diggers.

Five days after the miners are now scheduled to return to work, their 10-day paid vacation begins under the current contract. They'll get $100 each for that vacation—nothing for next week.

Now miners are wondering if something will happen to keep them idle during those five days.

There is the possibility that many mine operators may not care to re-open their pits for the five-day period. Once, down, mines require certain preparatory and inspection work before resuming production. Operators may stay closed and save doing those chores twice.

Singer Of Sixties Dies At Age Of 103

Long Beach, Calif., June 10 (AP)—Death has taken Mrs. Clarissa M. Noxon, who sang and danced on Broadway before the Civil War. She was 103.

Born in Masonville, N. Y., she performed as her father's dancing partner at the age of 10 and several years afterward. She died yesterday at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Jennie Elliott. Also surviving are a son, 21 grandchildren, 37 great-grandchildren and 2 gre2at-great grandchildren.

Anti-Poll Tax Bill Due For Early Test

House Salvages Part Of Civil Rights Program

Washington, June 10 (AP)—An early House test shaped up today on anti-poll tax legislation, a major part of President Truman's Civil Rights program.

Shelved yesterday by a House administration subcommittee, the measure apparently has a good chance to be salvaged when it goes before the full 21-member group next Wednesday. The subcommittee had suggested further study of proposals to abolish poll taxes by constitutional amendment.

President Truman told his news conference yesterday that such proposals are just intended to prolong the agony.

The bill set aside by the subcommittee would make it unlawful to require a voter to pay a poll tax before he could cast a ballot for federal officers. The bill's advocates contend such a requirement in some southern states makes it almost impossible for Negroes and poor white citizens to vote.

Chairman Norton (D-NJ) of the administration committee predicted approval of the bill next Wednesday. She has been a leading advocate of poll tax repeal, which was requested by Mr. Truman endorsed by both the Republican and Democratic National conventions of 1948.

Rescue Boat Burns Off Nippon Coast; 6 U. S. Airmen Lost

Tokyo, June 10 (AP)—Six U. S. airmen and a Japanese died yesterday when their 63-foot rescue boat caught fire off the east coast of Japan, the Air Force reported today.

Cpl. Albert N. Duffield, jr., Willow Grove, Pa. was the only survivor. He told officers the boat was six miles off Sendai, north of Tokyo, when it caught fire.

He said the flames cut off access to emergency equipment and the whole crew abandoned ship in a rough sea.

Duffield managed to swim the six miles to shore. Four bodies have been recovered.

The rescue boat was one of several assigned to the Far East Air Force. Names of victims were withheld.

Duffield said the Japanese was pilot of the craft.

Grand Rapids Judge Gives Mayor Welsh Weapon in Recall

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 10 (AP)—Mayor George W. Welsh today had a court injunction to use in his battle to avoid recall.

The order handed down yesterday by Circuit Judge Dale Souter halted preparation for a recall election June 28. City Clerk R. Stanton Kilpatrick said crews had begun erecting voting machines.

Judge Souter, acting as a superior court jurist, issued the order restraining the clerk from going ahead with plans for the balloting.

He also ordered him to appear at a court hearing June 20 to show cause why the balloting should not be cancelled permanently. Former Michigan Congressman Bartel J. Jonkman obtained the order on behalf of the mayor.

Ella Raines Takes Her Own Barbecue Along To England

Hollywood, June 10 (AP)—Ella Raines leaves today for London to rejoin her husband, Maj. Robin Olds, who is stationed in England.

Traveling with her will be 20 frozen steaks, a case of avocados and three cases of beer. Ella says she will throw a barbecue for British friends.

Tucker Is Indicted For Mail Fraud In New Car Promotion

Chicago, June 10 (AP)— Preston T. Tucker, promoter of a novel automobile that never got into mass production, today was indicted on charges of mail fraud, SEC violations and conspiracy. Seven associates were indicted with him.

A 31-count indictment was returned before Federal Judge John P. Barnes by a grand jury which spent 12 weeks since Feb. 12 investigating affairs of Tucker and his corporation.

Maximum possible penalties for conviction under the indictment would amount to 155 years imprisonment and $60,000 in fines for each of the eight defendants.

The counts are 25 of mail fraud, five of violating regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and one of conspiracy.

Other defendants with the 46-year-old president and director of the Tucker Corporation are:

Harold A. Karsten, 58, alias Abraham Karatz, 11522 Morrison street, North Hollywood, Calif., former Minneapolis lawyer:

Floyd D. Cerf, 60, Chicago, former investment banker, who floated the public issue of stock in the corporation.

Robert Pierce, 50, Detroit Athletic Club, Detroit, formerly associated with Briggs Manufacturing company of Detroit, and former director and treasurer of Tucker.

Fred Rockleman, 63, Chicago, who held the posts of director, general sales manager and executive vice president of Tucker Corporation. He had been associated with Ford Motor company and Chrysler corporation for more than 27 years.

Mitchell W. Dulian, 55, Oak Park, Ill., a former director and general sales manager of Tucker.

Otis Radford, 45, Evergreen Park, Ill., a former Tucker corporation director, treasurer and comptroller. He formerly worked for Detroit banks and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Cliff Knoble, 50, Chicago, who served as director of advertising for Tucker corporation. He formerly was with Chrysler Corp.

Lithuanian General Back At Workbench

Army Commander Glad To Get California Job

Culver City, Calif., June 10 (AP) A onetime commander in chief of the Lithuanian army goes to work today assembling airplane hydraulic valves in a little back shop here.

But Gen. Stasys Rastikis says he is "happy as a bird" behind a work bench at the Hartwell Aviation Co.

The 53-year-old general starts work at the bottom less than a month after he and his wife, Helen Marie, 46, arrived in New York as displaced persons. They were sick and exhausted after nine years of fighting, hiding, running and imprisonment at the hands of the Russians and Germans.

Underground reports say that one of their three daughters is dead. From the other two, also whisked away to Siberia, has come no word. Mrs. Rastikis, arrested with the girls was imprisoned but eventually released to rejoin her husband in the Lithuanian underground.

How the general came to work here is a story in itself. Clark Hartwell, the aviation company owner, met the Rev. Joseph Concius, president of the United Lithuanian relief in America, at Lake Arrowhead, Calif. Father Concius asked Hartwell if he could use a good man. Hartwell said "sure" and the "good man" turned out to be Gen. Rastikis.

Through an interpreter the General says he is pleasantly impressed with America except for the automobiles—"there are so many of them it is frightening."

Governor Boosts Link With Upper Peninsula

Foreign Ministers Trying To Salvage Berlin Agreement

Paris, June 10 (AP) — Russia called today for a new Big Four conference within three months to draft a German peace treaty, French sources said.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky placed before the foreign ministers' council a proposal that all four powers occupying Germany agree to withdraw all their troops one year after a German peace treaty is signed.

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

Paris, June 10 (AP)—The foreign ministers of the east and west sought today to salvage some accords from the debris of differences accumulated over discussion of Germany's future.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky yesterday accepted an American request that the east-west trade and traffic talks in Berlin be ended by Monday.

The western powers previously had told Russia they were tired of jockeying in the foreign ministers' council and wanted to get results. If the Berlin talks do not produce an agreement by Monday the Big Four foreign ministers will step in.

The current Berlin negotiations for an east-west trade and traffic agreement are being stymied by the western-blessed rail strike. The United States, Britain and France have told Russia that no accord is possible as long as the Berlin rail strike continues.

Unless the strikers return to work within the next 24 or 48 hours, the Berlin negotiators will have to report to the foreign ministers Monday that they have failed to agree.

Meanwhile the problem of concluding peace treaties with Germany and Austria is up in the air.

Western officials have said the ministers may propose the formation of a four-power commission to continue studying German peace treaty prospects if the present Paris conference breaks up without any positive agreements.

The main function of such a commission would be to lay the groundwork for another foreign ministers conference at some future date.

The commission also might be assigned the task of tackling aspects of the Berlin situation which require four-power action.

It is believed that Russia and the west are not far apart on the issues holding up an Austrian independence treaty. But neither side is keen on concluding an Austrian treaty and withdrawing occupation troops whlie neighboring Germany is so unsettled.

Weapon Identified In Babich Shooting

Milwaukee Youth Pointed Out By Gun Dealer

Milwaukee, June 10 (AP)—Milton Babich was pointed out today as the man who purchased the gun which the state claims was used to kill 16-year-old Patricia Birmingham.

A witness at the murder trial of the 19-year-old former high school honor student walked to counsel's table, pointed to Babich and declared:

"This is the man to whom I sold the gun."

Babich displayed no emotion as the witness, William Flintrop, clerk in a sport goods store, identified him.

The gun was part of the state's grisly collection of exhibits offered to support its claim that Babich, with premeditation, shot his wife's kid sister and tossed her weighted body into the river because she threatened to disclose her sister was pregnant. The defense says the shooting was accidental.

The other exhibits, some of which drew defense objections, included a bullet removed from Patricia's head, her clothing, and photographs showing the wounds in the girl's head.

Patricia was shot on Feb. 10. The municipal court jury was told yesterday that the first bullet fired into her head did not inflict a fatal wound. A Milwaukee pathologist, Dr. L. J. Van Hecke, testified that the second shot brought death to the girl.

Crushed by Tractor, Farmer Strangles Himself With Twigs

Red Creek, N. Y., June 10 (AP) —A farmer pinned by an overturned tractor strangled himself with twigs to end his agony, a coroner's physician reported.

James Jenkins, 52, was caught yesterday beneath the tractor when it tipped over backward while hauling a mower up a steep hill. The tractor seat crushed his abdomen.

Dr. Charles Single said Jenkins apparently grasped twigs from a nearby bush, placed them around his throat and strangled himself.

Truman Will March With War Veterans

President Joins Battery At Little Rock Reunion

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

Washington, June 10 (AP)—President Truman flies today to Little Rock to rejoin his old battery at another reunion of the 35th Division of World War I.

The onetime captain of Battery D, 129th Field Artillery will mix with old cronies, look in on a ball tonight, and have 7 o'clock breakfast Saturday morning with his battery mates.

The President worked last night to complete an address to be delivered at 3:30 p. m. (Eastern Standard Time) Saturday, highlighting the observance with the buddies with whom he served in France.

With Secretary of State Acheson working at Paris on the German problem and the Senate soon to take up the North Atlantic pact, the prospects for peace are expected to have heavy emphasis in the talk.

Mr. Truman's take-off in the "Independence," the White House DS-6, was timed at 12:30 p. m. (Eastern Standard Time) for the three and a half hour flight to Arkansas. He will return to Washington immediately after Saturday's talk.

Making the trip with the President are Secretaries Charles G. Ross and Matthew J. Connelly; John A. Steelman, assistant to the President; Budget Director Frank Page, an Arkansan, and the President's three aides Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan of the Army, Rear Admiral Robert D. Dennison of the Navy, and Brig. Gen. Robert B. Landry of the Air Force.

LARGEST FLAG READY

Detroit (AP)—A new "World's Largest Flag" will be unveiled by Detroit's J. L. Judson Co. when Flag Day is celebrated Tuesday. The flag will replace one unveiled in 1923 for which the "world's largest" claim also was made. Covering eight stories of the big department store building, it will be 3,700 square feet larger than the original.

STRIKERS IN COURT

Ishpeming, Mich., June 10 (AP) —Sixteen strikers at the H. W Gossard Ladies Garment Co. plant demanded examination when arraigned today on a charge of conspiracy to prevent entrance into the plant.

Free Senate Haircuts And Mineral Water Stir House Jealousy

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

Washington, June 10 (AP)—The traditionally polite relations between the Senate and the House were strained today by House criticism of such senatorial privileges as free mineral water.

Resentment over Senate "miscellaneous" expenses including free shaves, haircuts and daily mineral water rations broke into the open yesterday during House debate on the annual bill for financing congressional activity.

The $62,200,000 measure cleared the House without alterations but not before the criticism was raised. And not until the House had voted an additional clerk and an extra $500 expense fund for each of its members.

Not in years have House members spoken so critically of their colleagues at the other end of the capitol. The unwritten rule is that neither branch publicity critics the other, and each approves the "housekeeping" programs of the other without question.

House members obviously were irked over published stories which listed the annual "take" of members of Congress and including such odds and ends as free barbering and free mineral water.

Rep. Rees (R-Kan) started the ball rolling by noting that the congressional appropriation bill did not provide free shaves and haircuts for House members. It never did.

Ex-Gob Wins Degree In Home Economics

Clothes Pinned On Cuties At Pepperdine College

Los Angeles, June 10 (AP)— A chef's cap and apron would have been more appropriate than the traditional black cap and gown Herbert J. Bullard wore when he was awarded his degree at Pepperdine college.

The 24-year-old Bullard, a wartime navy bugle master, is the first male to major in home economics at this college. He is going to teach home economics in the Los Angeles school system next fall.

Dr. Wreathy Aiken, head of the Department of Home Economics at Pepperdine, says frankly that she was skeptical when Bullard applied for permission to major in the course.

There were moments of misgivings, such as when all the rest of the class was working on clothing construction. That used to be called sewing. Everybody in the class except Bullard was going about pinning clothes on everybody else. So Bullard went around pinning clothes on the class cuties, too. He was making clothes for his wife, though. If some of the gals were scantily clad at the time, the situation wasn't much different from the female model posing for a class of male artists, except that it was Bullard who was outnumbered.

"He did splendid work and he'll make a splendid teacher, I'm sure," says Dr. Aiken. "He wanted to study home economics in high school but he wasn't permitted to do so. Coming back from the war, he got his chance. He has a flair for it."

Secretary of State Embarrassed, Lacks Auto Registration

Lansing, June 10 (AP)—The man whose signature appears on every Michigan car owner's registration certificate discovered when he tried to drive into Canada that he didn't have one of his own.

Secretary of State Fred M. Alger, jr., reported today his face was red when the Canadian customs officer asked for his registration certificate.

He found he only had the 1948 one. By filling out a special form, he was allowed to enter Canada but he said the customs officer seemed far from pleased.

Alger returned to his office today to find out how he goes about issuing a duplicate 1949 registration to himself.

Bank at South Bend Held Up By Gunman

South Bend, Ind., June 10 (AP) —Police working with a radioed description spotted and captured a lone gunman a half hour after he held up a branch of the National Bank and Trust company today.

The capture was made in nearby LaPorte, Ind., where Police Chief Jack Alexander said the man, Luther W. Roy, 22, of Harvey, Ill., surrendered without a struggle when officers halted his car. He said Roy readily admitted the holdup.

Alexander reported a count of the money seized along with Roy was $63,500. The bank reported its shortage at $58,000.50. Police were attempting to learn the source of the $5,500 difference.

Commission Named To Map Plans For Unity Of Michigan

Lake Ferry To Escanaba Among Possibilities

Lansing, June 10 (AP)—The executive office announced today Governor Williams' appointment of a 12-man inter-peninsula communications commission to consider methods of linking Michigan's two peninsulas more firmly.

The commission was assigned the job of finding ways to improve physical, political and cultural unity between northern and southern Michigan.

Two Mayors Chosen

Appointed to the commission were:

Prof. Roger Morrison of the University of Michigan transportation department; John H. Mc Carthy, Mt. Clemens engineer and contractor who was defeated as the Democratic candidate for state highway commissioner; Julius Allen, Detroit attorney; Alex Rogoski, Muskegon attorney.

Mayor Maurice Hunt of Sault Ste. Marie; William Cochran, jr., manager of an Iron Mountain trucking concern; Capt. James Dowd, veteran lake captain now in command of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Company Steamer "Peter White," James Kehoe, mayor of Menominee.

Deputy State Highway Commissioner Harry C. Coons; Robert J. Furlong, manager of State Tourist Council; M. L. Bricker, vice president of the Ford Motor company; and Charles Hayes, East Lansing, a member of the first straits bridge authority.

In addition the state commission of economic development will name a representative.

Problem Unique

Williams said "Michigan is the only state in the Union which is divided by water barriers. This creates for us a unique problem which demands all our ingenuity.

"The committee's work will include, of course, the question of better communication across the

State Needs More Taxes To Improve Roads, Says Brake

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., June 10 (AP)— State Treasurer D. Hale Brake implied yesterday that those who want higher highway taxes should elect their friends to state office and the legislature in 1950.

Brake, generally considered a Republican prospect for governor in the next campaign, said that Michigan's highway system is losing ground and that "if we are going to have better roads and streets we must pay for them."

Addressing the Upper Peninsula Road Builders Association, Brake declared:

"No one familiar with the situation at Lansing can question the fact that a governor could have obtained the passage of a sound, far-looking road program in this session of the legislature. In connection with their roads, among other things, the people of the state need to re-examine their policy of choosing a governor and a legislature in opposing parties.

"We have dilly-dallied long enough. X X X friends of good roads should see to it that in the fall of 1950 the necessary groundwork is laid for an entirely different result in the legislative session of 1951."

Brake blamed the Democrats for defeat of the road building program in the 1949 legislature.

METERS COLLECT $67,000

Owosso, (AP)—Parking meters in Owosso already have paid for $23,000 worth of off-street parking facilities Mayor Kenneth Crawford said Thursday. The meters were installed nearly two years ago at a cost of $42,000, and have brought in $67,000 in revenue.

Mrs. Stosel Rites Held At Schaffer

Funeral services for Mrs. Joseph Drengacz Stosel, a former resident of Schaffer and mother of Rev. Thomas Drengacz, of Wakefield, widely known clergyman, were held yesterday at 8:30 at the Boyle funeral chapel at Bark River and at 9 o'clock at a solemn requiem high mass at Sacred Heart church in Schaffer.

Her son, Rev. Drengacz, was celebrant of the solemn requiem high mass; Rev. Martin B. Melican was deacon and Rev. Jerome Larson, sub-deason. Also in the sanctuary were Rev. Francis Scheringer, Rev. Bernard Karel, Rev. Neil M. Stehlin, Rev. Gabriel Waraxa, Rev. Patrick McArron, O. F. M., Rev. Arnold Thompson, Rev. Clifford Nadeau, Rev. Clement LePine, Rev. Wilfred Pelletier and Rev. Ralph Sterbentz

A delegation of Sisters of Notre Dame of St. Mary's parochial school at Wakefield formed an honorary escort.

Burial was in Sacred Heart cemetery. Pallbearers were Joseph Potvin, Joseph Butryn, John and Louis Butryn, August Schultz and Edward Lasnoski.

The services were attended by many residents of Schaffer and neighboring communities and of the Munising district.

Mrs. Arthur Sanford Dies in Stephenson

Mrs. Nellie Egan Sanford, 90, of Stephenson, widow of Arthur F. Sanford, who served as Chicago & North Western station agent there for many years, died of infirmties at 2 a. m. Thursday in her home.

Born in Negaunee Jan. 21, 1859, she married Mr. Sanford June 2 1880, and the couple moved to Stephenson in 1902.

Survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Lloyd A. Larson of Menominee; Miss Loleta Sanford of Powers; three sons, the Very Rev. Glen E. Sanford of Marquette; Brother Arthur, C. F. A., of Chicago: Dr. Joseph A. Sanford of Leaksville, N. C.; four grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 10 a. m. in the Church of the Precious Blood at Stephenson with the Rev. Fr. Sanford intoning the mass. The cortege will form at the family home at 9:30 a. m. and burial will be in the Stephenson township cemetery.

Swedish Patients Spend Cozy Winter

New York,—A hundred days in a warm, dry climate, is what most arthritis and rheumatism patients dream about during cold, northern winters. The dream came true, without any traveling, for some 50 arthritics in Lund, Sweden. For the past seven years, they have each spent about 100 days in a special ward in the University of Lund hospital where the temperature was kept at a cosy 89 to 90 degrees Fahrenheit, with a relative humidity of 35 per cent.

Blue and livid hands and feet warmed to a normal, pink and white skin color. Dropsy and swelling of involved joints cleared up. Shifting pains and contractures lessened. Damaged or defective hearts functioned better.

These were the most obvious effects of the hot, dry climate, Drs. Gunnar Edstrom, G. Lundin and T. Wrammer of the University of Lund reported to the International Congress on Rheumatic Diseases here.

All the patients showed increases in blood circulation. Spasm of blood vessels was converted to dilatation. Saturation of the blood in the veins with oxygen increased from 51 per cent to 82 per cent.

BROTHERTON IS SPEAKER HERE

Talks To Delta History Society Last Night

R. A. Brotherton of Negaunee, former Escanaba resident, and an active member of the Marquette County Historical Society, last night presented an illustrated talk on the early history of the Delta county area to the Delta County Historical Society in meeting in Carnegie Public Library in Escanaba.

Besides the informative commentary that accompanied the showing of early-day pictures on a screen, Mr. Brotherton interspersed his talk with humorous anecdotes about pioneer personalities. First scenes were those of the Houghton-Burt expedition that started at Escanaba in 1844 to journey up the Escanaba river to discover iron ore at the Marquette range.

Of particular interest to Delta county members of the Historical Society were the pictures of an earlier period in Gladstone, Escanaba, Rock, Fayette and other county communities.

Frank Bender Jr. of Ford River, president of the Historical Society, announced that the July meeting of the Society will be held at Ford River. Plans for an outing meeting there are being completed by a committee and a date for the meeting will be announced soon.

Bender also announced that the August meeting will be held Sunday afternoon, August 7, at Peninsula Point lighthouse near Stonington. Arrangements for the meeting are being made with the coperation of Peder Pedersen, master of the Stonington Grange and Bay de Noc township supervisor, and other residents of the Stonington community. A history of the Stonington area will be presented at that time.

Charles L. Follo, a director of the Historical Society, reported that plans are being made for a display at the U. P. State Fair in cooperation with the State Historical Society. Mrs. C. B. Dunathan reported on a recent meeting of the Society's display committee, which is preparing an exhibit for showing in windows in Delta county business places and is assisting in plans for the exhibit at the fair.

Refreshments were served following the meeting.

URGES BETTER TRAIN SERVICE

Iron River To Escanaba Streamliner Sought

Iron River, Mich.—Local business interests again this week called upon the North Western railway to provide more modern and comfortable coaches, preferably of the streamlined type, for the 400-connection train that operates daily between here, Powers and Escanaba.

Ben L. Quirt told fellow members of the Iron River Business Men's association Tuesday evening he thought the railroad could well afford to replace the present old-type passenger coach with a 400-type car to serve passengers using the train.

He expressed the conviction that the better equipment would result in increased patronage. The association was advised the Peninsula 400 between Ishpeming, Powers, Green Bay, Milwaukee and Chicago was one of the most profitable on the North Western system.

The association secretary, V. C. Vaughan, was commissioned to forward the request in writing to the North Western system passenger traffic chief in Chicago, reminding him that when the 400-connection steam train was placed in service in 1946, the railroad promised it would add a 400-type coach when that equipment became available.

Not long ago when enroute to Milwaukee on a business trip, Quirt and 12 other passengers bound for Powers and the southbound 400 streamlined were delayed at Waucedah by engine trouble, and section men commandeered automobiles to rush them to Powers where the flyer had been held.

Detroiter Who Shot Invalid Daughter, 25, Faces Murder Trial

Detroit, June 10 (AP)—The state of Michigan was prepared today to bring Eugene Braunsdorf to the bar of justice.

It will be on a charge of murder.

Again, the law must be inexorable.

And this is true despite the story of sorrow and tears that lies behind the stern court formalities.

Last May 21, the warrant alleges, Braunsdorf committed murder—he deliberately shot his daughter, Virginia, 25, to death.

The background, as police recited it:

Braunsdorf, 51, has played in the Detroit symphony orchestra for 20 years.

Distinguished in white bow tie and tails, he operated the big bass viol. Friends knew him as a gentle-mannered man.

For all of 25 years Virginia had been a cripple. It was hopeless, doctors said.

Recently, there have been financial problems for the symphony. Detroit is fond of its symphony. There was much publicity.

Braunsdorf brooded.

"I was getting old and the future did not look bright," he said. "I couldn't bear the thought of dying and leaving Virginia alone, helpless and without money."

On the morning of May 21 police found the musician critically wounded in his parked car and Virginia dead beside him.

They said he shot Virginia and turned the gun on himself.

When Braunsdorf recovers, possibly within a fortnight, he'll be brought to court.

BRIDGE PASSES THROUGH FACTORY— When the state of Michigan and the Nineteen Hundred Corp. met an impasse over construction of a highway overpass, they did agree that the bridge and the company's new factory could occupy the same site at St. Joseph, Mich. Part of the new Blossomland bridge on route 31 at St. Joseph will cross through the top of the factory. Eight of the bridge's massive concrete pillars, situated inside the factory, will hold up the roof of the plant. (AP Photo)

Big Hunk Of Trade In Argentine Lost

By SAM DAWSON

New York, (AP)—The United States has lost to Britain another hunk of its already dwindling trade with Argentina.

The British-Argentine five-year trade deal announced this week squeezes the United States out of what once was a nifty three-way swap, profiting every one. We have already lost to a degree our old three-way trade with Canada and Britain.

In the past, Argentina and Canada could buy from us out of the proceeds of what they sold to raw-material-hungry Britain. Now they can't.

American businessmen note that Britons are stepping out hard and fast in grabbing any bit of world trade we leave lying around loose—wherever the dollar shortage is most acute.

Some fear John Bull may repeat his Argentine trick in other Latin American lands. They note that the British delegate to the Havana meeting of the economic commission for Latin America urges today a study "of the possibilities of commerce in pounds sterling instead of in dollars.

Americans also note that once again the United States seems to be losing in its fight to open the world to trade on the basis of "may the best man win." Instead, the British and the Argentines, like so many others, are narrowing it right down to a two-way barter plan.

The American ideal—that the individual buyer should be free to buy and the individual seller free to sell in all of the world's markets — seems farther away than ever. Now, in many lands, the individual buys and sells only in accordance with rules, prices and quantity quotas set by governments.

Americans most directly involved in the Argentine trade pact with Britain are oilmen and meat packers. England will sell Argentina 44 million barrels of oil products a year. It is believed that will satisfy the Argentine demand for oil. In the past American oil companies considered Argentina their market and have been selling her about $115 million worth of oil a year.

American-owned packing houses in Argentina, on the other hand, are reported pleased with the British deal, which gives them a higher price for their product than they got last year. The Argentina rancher, however, is kicking—he says the price the packers pay him is too low. The government sets the price.

But countless other American business firms are involved less directly. The pact states Argentina must take pound sterling for its products. It can't convert the pounds into dollars, and to that exent, it can't buy American products.

It's the old barter system. But it leaves the American businessman outside, slowly being pushed back to the barter system himself, against his will.

Miss Edith Harrington arrived last night to spend the summer vacation from her studies at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor at her home here. Her parents, Dr. and Mrs. K. F. Harrington accompanied her from Ann Arbor. This weekend they are attending the U. P. Dental convention in Menominee.

Mrs. Edward Stratton, sr., has arrived from Fort Knox, Ky., where she has been visiting her son, Sgt. Robert Stratton and members of his family, and will spend the summer season at her home at Kipling. Mrs. Stratton has been away since early winter.

Mrs. Arthur Kamrath returned Wednesday night from a ten-day trip to Ann Arbor and Pontiac. She also attended a three-day meeting of the Synodical Society of the Presbyterian church at Alma.

Warmington Will Attend Meeting of Michigan Bankers

William Warmington, first vice president of the Michigan Bankers association, will preside at the Friday meeting of the Michigan Bankers association when they meet in Detroit June 16-18 for their 63rd annual convention. Mr. and Mrs. Warmington will leave Sunday.

Michigan bankers will elect a member to the American Bankers association nominating committee and an alternate; a member for the A. B. A. executive council to succeed Fred Marin of Lansing; state vice presidents of the National Bank division, the Savings bank division, and the Trust division; and officers of the Michigan Bankers association.

Speakers at the convention will include Horace F. Conklin, president of the bankers association, who will deliver an ex-augural address; Paul Mazur and Charles Broderick of New York city, who will discuss general aspects of business; Col. Robert R. Brooks jr., of St. Louis, Mo., who will discuss the Wenzlick forecast; Maurice C. Eveland, commissioner of the state banking department, who will discuss banking trends in Michigan; Cass Hough of Plymouth, Wis., who will discuss the importance of profit sharing; Malcolm Bingay of the Detroit Free Press.

Registration for the convention opens Wednesday, June 15. Among social events scheduled are a complimentary breakfast, numerous luncheons; a style show and a luncheon for women, sponsored by the J. L. Hudson company; a boat trip and lunch aboard the "City of Detroit III," and a cocktail party.

Labor Bill Debate Nears Big Question Of Handling Strikes

By MAX HALL

Washington, June 10 (AP)—The Senate warmed up today for its hottest labor fight—over how to handle strikes that could cause national emergencies.

General debate on changing the Taft-Hartley act neared an end, to come after speeches by Senators Humprey (D-Minn), Murray (D-Mont), and Neely (D-W Va). Next will come the one-by-one consideration of amendments to the Truman administration's bill for Taft-Hartley repeal.

"National emergency" amendments may be taken up Tuesday and some senators say this battle may continue the rest of next week.

That also happens to be the week John L. Lewis has set aside for a coal strike. With coal supplies high, a one-week stoppage isn't considered a national emergency. But it brings sharply to the attention of Congress the possibility of a longer strike beginning in July.

Lewis "Headline Hunter"

President Truman was asked yesterday at his news conference about the work stoppage Lewis has called for his United Mine Workers.

The president catalogued Lewis as a headline hunter, and said also that this is not supposed to be a strike but a sort of special sitdown. He said he understood that its object was to use up coal and put the miners in a better bargaining position.

On one thing, the president and Lewis are agreed: They want an end to the Taft-Hartley provision for court orders to stop national emergency strikes. Lewis has been heavily fined under this provision in the past. Mr. Truman has expressed the view that the president already has inherent powers to deal with an emergency.

As much as Lewis hates the whole Taft-Hartley law, however, his strategy in calling a walkout during debate on the law's repeal has dismayed some of the lawmakers who are for repeal. Likewise, it has encouraged T-H friends who say that the timing is bound to help their effort to preserve much of the law.

The administration repealer, for which Mr. Truman expressed continued support, does not authorize either injunctions or government seizure of plants to delay strikes in vital industries.

Economic Cushions Expected To Ease This Year's Slump

By SAM DAWSON

New York, (AP)—Many industrial leaders are putting great stock in the economic cushions we have piled up this time to break the fall from the business ladder.

Most expect the slump to get worse, and, certainly, most of the signs bear them out in this. The stock market, at a two-year low, shows what Wall Street expects for business this fall.

But almost every one perdicting at this time insists that the slump won't be either as sharp as the one in 1920-21 or as deep and prolonged as that which followed the 1929-30 break.

Every time the business cycle turns downward, you may remember, there are always those who say it just can't happen. This time they base their hopes on those cushions. How effective are they?

Well, this time they say there is very little farm land speculation based on debt, such as helped break the economy's back in 1920-21. Nor are there excessive inventories built up on borrowed money for resale rather than use, as in that earlier slump.

Stock market debt, huge in 1929, is trivial today. Stock prices have dropped discouragingly, but from no such dizzy heights as 20 years ago, and speculation volume has been unimportant. This time "the public" is not tangled up in an over-extended market. And high margin requirements keep out the shoe-string operator.

Also, both business and individuals are much better off for ready cash. Cash and cash equivalent assets are far higher than before the war, the National City Bank of New York notes in its June review. And they grew at a greater rate than did personal and business debts.

For one thing, individuals have $52 billion in U. S. Savings Bonds to fall back upon. Many corporations have large reserves set aside against inventory loss. The falling prices on their products and the rtw materials tthey have stored need not send them into a tailspin, as in former slumps.

Farm mortgage debt situation is much better this time. But mortgage debt in cities is inflated now, just as it was in 1929. The debt this time is guaranteed by federal agencies. This won't keep individuals from losing their homes, the bank admits, but this time it needn't mushroom out and pull banks down with it, too.

The banking system is reported strong and more liquid this time. Deposit insurance and large reserves combine to ward off spreading distrust and paralysis of credit.

Farm price supports, whatever they may cost the eating public and the taxpayer, have already done duty as a cushion against the jolts of falling prices of farm products. This time there need not be one whole section of the buying public suddenly caught off at the pockets.

CITY OF ESCANABA NOTICE

to

Petitioners For Water Main Extension, and Property Owners Requesting Water Service Connections.

Beginning July 1, 1949, the following policy will be put into effect:

PETITIONERS FOR WATER MAIN EXTENSION will either: (1) Be assessed $1.50 per front foot to partially cover construction costs, provided that the signatures of owners of a majority of the property frontage liable to be assessed are secured, or (2) Pay at the rate of $1.50 per front foot for their proportionate part of the total length of main installed and receive refunds as intervening property owners attach to the main. The latter method will apply in cases where the signatures of owners of a majority of the property frontage affected are not secured.

PROPERTY OWNERS REQUESTING WATER MAIN SERVICE CONNECTIONS will secure a permit from the City Treasurer's office. A deposit of $25.00 will be required when ¾-inch pipe is to be used, and $30.00 when one-inch pipe is to be used. The City will make the complete installation from main to meter and the property owner will be billed for the complete cost of all labor and materials, the deposit made to be a part thereof. The City will then assume responsibility for the repair of all leaks from the main to the nearest house line without cost to the property owner.

Additional information may be obtained from the City Manager's office.

Day Of Reckoning Rapidly Approaches

GOVERNOR WILLIAMS has estimated that the state treasury will be broke by March 15 next year and that a deficit will pile up rapidly from then to June 30. The governor estimated the deficit at the end of the fiscal year will total $53 millions.

It is impossible to determine at this time what the exact condition of the state's finances will be next spring because of fluctuating business conditions. The governor's estimates presumably are based upon anticipated conditions. In the past few years similar expectations of large deficits did not develop because of inflationary prices and heavy business volume.

The state's principal revenue comes from the sales tax receipts. Since the sales tax is a percentage tax of retail business, it logically follows that tax receipts are highest when retail volume is highest.

The reimbursement to schools, cities and townships under the sales tax diversion amendment in any given year is predicated upon the total of the receipts in the previous year. The actual payments, however, are made from current receipts. Consequently, when receipts are accelerating, as they have in recent years, the state retains a larger proportion of the tax than the tax diversion law actually provides. That is why anticipated deficits of past years did not develop.

The reverse will be true when business volume begins to decelerate. The state will be required to pay out a larger percentage of its current receipts to schools, cities and townships than the tax diversion law formula provides. The state deficit thus will climb sharply in a short period of time.

The fiscal financing setup is an extremely unhealthy one, viewed from the standpoint of state finances. The day of reckoning of the folly of the tax diversion amendment is fast approaching.

Lewis Orders Another Strike

JOHN L. LEWIS has called another general strike in the coal industry, this one to last one week, beginning next Monday.

The purpose of the week's walkout, according to Lewis, is "to restore stability to the mining industry." Thus, we have a bold admission by a labor czar that he has taken upon himself the prerogative of management.

Only three months ago Lewis called the miners off their jobs for a period of two weeks, ostensibly as a memorial holiday for miners killed on the job the previous year and to protest the nomination of James Boyd as director of the bureau of mines. The senate replied to this action by prompt confirmation of Boy'd appointment. It was generally felt at the time that the real reason for the coal workers' two week holiday was to work off some of the surplus supply of coal above ground, so as to improve the union's contract bargaining position.

This time Lewis was not to timid. He left no room for doubt that he was calling the miners from the pits to improve the union's bargaining position in the contract talks that are now developing.

The coal operators must now realize that the joker in their last contract with Lewis and the UMW was the clause that authorized the union to call the miners from the pits at will. That clause sounded innocent enough. It merely said that the coal mines would work when "willing and able." The union decides when the miners are "willing and able." In effect, it legalizes strikes, walkouts, holidays anytime that Lewis sees fit to call the men from their jobs.

If the coal operators accept this clause in any new contract with the union, they deserve whatever trouble Lewis dishes out to them. The clause gives the mine union president virtually complete control over the entire industry, including even management's usual prerogatives.

Game Case Has Wide Implications

JUDGE GLENN JACKSON'S ruling in the Bissonette conservation case in Menominee county deals with a subject that should be of considerable interest to the general public.

Judge Jackson observed in his ruling that the Bissonette case is of relatively little importance but it involves principles of very considerable importance.

The circuit judge is certainly correct in that observation. It involves one of the most cherished rights of American citizenship, the protection against illegal search and seizures guaranteed under the American Bill of Rights.

Bissonette was convicted in justice court in Hermansville of a charge of illegally transporting a rifle in a game area. He was stopped by a conservation officer who found the gun in Bissonette's car. Bissonette appealed and Judge ackson reversed the conviction on the grounds that the rifle was seized without a warrant.

The state asked Judge Jackson to reconsider his decision but the judge merely confirmed the decision with a more detailed explanation of his reasons.

Specifically, the judge ruled that a conservation officer is not a peace officer and thus does not qualify for broad powers granted to peace officers in a Michigan constitutional amendment of 1936.

Of broader public interest, however, are the judge's remarks on the subject of the constitutional amendment itself. He pointed out that it was not his responsibility to pass upon the validity of that amendment, but one need not be a lawyer to gain the impression that Judge Jackson, for one, seriously questions the constitutionality of the amendment.

Hhe said, among other things, "The amendment is a radical departure from the Bill of Rights dealing with a search and seizure. The primary purpose of its (the Michigan 1939 amendment) adoption was to reach the so-called gangsters who were carrying concealed weapons to rob and murder and other serious offenses against life and property. Because it is a radical departure, its application should not be unduly extended."

He said, further, "The amendment was adopted by the voters but its wording is so peculiar that when considered with the original section it may be considered uncertain that the electors understood its full impact. It says a police officer may search every person upon the street, his automobile or his place of business and if he should find a firearm or other weapson, he can use this as evidence. If no weapon is found, the officer has merely committed a technical trespass. The question naturally arises as to the validity of these provisions, but it is not necessary to pass upon them here."

The state conservation department has indicated that it will appeal the decision to the state supreme court. Presumably the appeal will question only the judge's decision that conservation officers are not peace officers.

We should like to see the supreme court of the state and, if necessary, the United States supreme court rule on the validity of the Michigan 1938 amendment itself, which is the more reaching aspects of this case.

BETTER TO SPEAK OUT
(Iron Mountain News)

The fight to bring cancer into the open, to call it by its name and talk about it as freely as such scourge deserves, owes much to newspaper columnists speaking from the shadows.

Sentence has been pronounced on Howard Vincent O'Brien, of the Chicago Daily News, and Carlton K. Matson, of the Cleveland Press, when they broke the veil of traditional false delicacy to tell large reading audiences of their plight and of the adjustments which reflective men make to the inevitable.

Now, in the same spirit of candor, Forrest Warren, columnist of the San Diego Daily Journal, makes his peace with the world and the future.

There is more in these cases than the not uncommon spectcles of fortitude in a last extremity. There is the courage to say what for generations was withheld, to cast aside that reticence which has been a chief stumbling block in the way of early detection of cancer, still the best hope of medicine in cancer control.

READERS' CORNER

Q. In a local editorial appeared this sentence: "Mr. Truman's legislative program appears to be jeoparded." How about that word jeoparded"?—H. L. D.

A. Itt's a little unusual; but it's quite a proper word. Jeopard is a transitive verb meaning, "To put in jeopardy; to expose to loss or injury." Example: Zebulun and Naphtali. . . jeoparded their lives unto the death in the high places of the field."—Judges, 5, 18. Jeopard is pronounced: JEP-erd.

Q. Here's a headline that reads: "Cappella Choir Gives Musicianly Concert." What other kind of concert could a choir give?—Mrs. L. T.

A. Musicianly is not incorrect, though it does have an affected look. Musicianly is an adjective meaning, "Having or exhibiting the taste or skill appropriate to a musician: as, a musicianly rendering." — Merriam Webster's.

There is an error in the headline, however. "Cappela choir" is incorrect. A choir that sings without instrumental accompaniment is properly called: "a cappella," pronounced: ah kahp-PELL-lah in Italian, and ah kuh-PELL-uh in English. The "a" of "a cappella" is not the English indefinite article. It is an Italian preposition meaning "in; according to; by." "A cappella" means "in (the manner of) chapel (music)."

Q. "What is bock beer, and does the word rhyme with rock or with luck?"—N. J. S.

A. The term bock beer is derived from the German Bockbier, which is a corruption of Einbecker bier, "beer of Einbeck (Germany)." Bock beer (Bockbier) is a strong, dark beer commonly brewed in the spring. A goat's head is the traditional symbol of bock beer—it's a pictorial pun on the word bock, which, in German, means "a buck or ram; he-goat." Bock rhymes with "dock."

A few weeks ago in this column the name of a Connecticut lake was mentioned: Chargoggagoggmanchaugagoggchaubunag-ungamaugg. I asked my readers to help me find the meaning and pronunciation. Several told me that the lake is in Massachusetts, near the town of Webster. E. W. Anderson, of San Bernardino, formerly of Connecticut, gives this translation: "You fish on your side,, we fish on our side, nobody fish in the middle," but this has been questioned.

The pronunciation is: chahr-GOG-uh-GOG-man-CHAWG-uh-GOG-chaw-BUN-uh-GUN-guh-MAWG. What a song title that name would make!

A.F. of L. Active In Politics Now

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Childs

Washington.—The Taft-Hartley act has wrought one major change that has received almost no notice. It has put the American Federation of Labor into politics and all indications are that the A. F. of L. means to stay right in the thick of the political struggle.

That the law, which was meant to take the unions out of politics, should have had this influence on the staid, hitherto non-political A. F. of L. is one of life's little ironies. But there it is and senators now debating the future of Taft-Hartley are very much aware of the eagle eye of William Green's political operators.

Labor's League of Political Education was created by the A. F. of L. to get around the T-H prohibition against unions spending their own funds for political activity. In a big brownstone house that was occupied until a few months ago by one of the last of Washington's cave dwellers the league is fairly bursting out with politics.

The league's director is Joseph Keenan, long on leave of absence as president of the Chicago Federation of Labor. On Keenan's staff are a group of bright young men and women using radio, a new weekly paper, films and every other resource to put over the A. F. of L. point of view.

LAUNCH RADIO SERIES

They recently started a radio series now being carried on more than 160 stations throughout the country. Some 70 members of congress, considered "right" by A. F. of L. standards, are contributing to this series with the advice and help of the league's able young experts.

But this is merely the surface. The real concentration is on grass-roots organization in almost every congressional district in the nation, and the goal is to get the labor vote registered as near 100 per cent as possible.

Representatives of the league from every state have been called to Washington for a meeting on July 19 and 20. At that meeting the groundwork will be laid for the 1950 campaign. The league expects to play a far more important part in next year's contest than it did last fall when it was a new organization.

But looking back on the '48 campaign, those who run the league are still inclined to think that it was a good job. Of the 172 members of congress elected with active A. F. of L. support, only two have "gone bad." The test, of course, is the house vote on the Wood bill, which the Republican-Dixiecrat coalition offered as a substitute for the administration labor bill.

Taft-Hartley is the one question on which all the diverse A. F. of L. unions can be united. But labor issues are far from being the sole preoccupation of the league.

TRY TO WOO FARMERS

An important objective for 1950 is to try to make the farmer see that his interests are essentially with labor. The working pattern here is the campaign the league waged last fall in Minnesota against Sen. Joseph Ball, Republican, who was badly defeated by Minneapolis' Mayor Hubert Humphrey, Democrat. In Minnesota the league sent to every farm family in the state a copy of Ball's voting record on farm bills, which underscored the insistently repeated statement that Ball was as "wrong" on farm issues as on labor.

Significantly, Keenan will be one of the speakers at the midwest conference of Democrats from 16 states to be held in Des Moines, Iowa, on Sunday and Monday. The theme to be stressed at that meeting will be the common stake of farmer and laborer in the Truman fair deal.

The league is directing efforts to come together with such organizations of farmers as the co-operative groups formerly under the rural electrification administration law. Farmers are being told that when their representatives voted against rent control, presumably because farmers wouldn't care what was happening in the cities, they were voting to give more of the consumer's dollar to the landlord who is the farmer's sharpest competitor.

The first issue of the new paper, The League Reporter, suggests that Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper's attack on Atomic Chairman David Lilienthal was inspired by the power lobby. Hickenlooper comes up for re-election in Iowa next year.

As Ball was the symbol in '48, so Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio will be target No. 1 next fall. Plans for the Ohio campaign are being carefully prepared. And nothing like this could have happened if it had not been for the Taft-Hartley act.

A Tip for June Graduates

COLLECT A LOT OF MONEY FOR A CAMPAIGN FUND, MY BOY!

Good Evening

SPEECHES—High school commencement here and elsewhere is now history. Seniors have graduated amid a welter of speeches containing more good advice than the speakers themselves have ever followed. They have heard themselves described as the hope of the future, of the county, of the world; as the leaders and citizens of tomorrow; as the answer to the questions afflicting an atomic and complex world.

Fortunately the graduates have taken the speech-making and the speech makers in their stride as only more hurdles in the obstacle race of growing up. If they took to heart even a portion of the burden of responsibility assigned them by the old folks, they would be a solemn group indeed. That they can sit straight-faced through some of the speeches is a tribute to their self-control and sterling strength of character.

• • •

AND GRADUATES— Perhaps the most remarkable achievement in graduating is to come through it with a feeling of optimism. So many tear-jerkers have told the graduates that the world is on the skids that there is the chance some of them will believe it.

The majority of the young people, however, have a healthier confidence in the future than do their elders. This is understandable. Youth must face the future they will live in; the oldsters have attained their future and are disappointed in it.

The real state of affairs is somewhere between the optimism of youth and the pessimism of their elders. The perfection for which we all strive is, in reality, still imperfect.

• • •

THE SPEECHMAKERS— The man who must address a group of high school Seniors upon their graduation faces a challenge. What is there that he can tell them for their benefit and the benefit of society?

Offhand we believe there is very little that he can say that will be helpful. No matter how many pearls of wisdom he scatters through his speech, they are as nothing unless the young people have been educated to recognize the difference between genuine pearls and the cheap imitation. This perception is sometimes achieved by education in the school and in the home and in the church; and sometimes it is not attained except by experience.

Young people today are in the majority, neither cynical nor hard. They are not sophisticated in the manner, of "flaming youth" of 20 years ago. But they are more honest, more frank, more out-spoken than were their parents in their youth.

What to say to a group of young folks of this kind? Graduation speakers indeed face an almost impossible chore.

• • •

THE RISKS—The trite phrase, the time-worn cliche voiced by a speaker will receive little attention from young people. It is corny. But they will listen—and perhaps heed—a forthright observation on matters that interest them.

A graduation speaker faces the risk of polite inattention when he deals in platitudes, and polite applause when he finishes. His talk may receive a nod of approval from the parents but from their sons and daughters the nod is one of boredom.

Older people are patient with speakers. The addresses have grown to have a cherished familiarity through repetition. The sentiments are sweet—reminiscent of their own graduation twenty-five years ago.

• • •

SUCCESS— The selection of graduation speakers is a serious matter. Too often the speaker is chosen for his oratorical ability or his success in life. And both will attempt to advise youth on what constitutes success in living.

Too often this success, by inference at least, is measured by the speaker in terms of hard work, loyalty, and eventual accumulation of material wealth. Whether couched in oratory or more plainly phrased, such opinions inevitably lead young people to suspect the speaker's motives. They already know the failure of the rich, the poverty of the hard-working, and harm of unquestioning loyalty.

• • •

WHAT IT IS—Success is achieved in many forms.

For some it comes on the field of battle and a hero's death, for others it is in the self-sacrifice of a religious order. Some people find success in out-spending the Joneses, others in becoming stockholder in a bank.

For each man and woman there is some measure of success. But most of all it comes in the knowledge of true friendships shared, in respect accorded good character, and in unselfish living. Without these no life can be successful.

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Escanaba—Mrs. C. L. Riegel has been appointed director of district 7B of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers. The area comprises Delta, Menominee, Iron and Dickinson counties. Mrs. Edgar C. Thompson president-elect, of Cadillac, announced the appointment, made by the executive committee.

Gladstone—Miss Bette Johnson, student of Minot Teachers' college in Minot, N. D., is spending the summer with her mother, Mrs. Barbara Johnson

Manistique—Mrs. V. L. Hixon has arrived from an extended visit in New York City and St. Petersburg, Fla. Her sister, Miss Isabella Bell of New York accompanied her for an extended visit here.

Twenty Years Ago

Escanaba—At the annual school election yesterday, Dr. John Walch, L. J. Jacobs, Dr. G. C. Bartley and F. J. Earle were elected to the school board. Twenty six votes were cast.

Escanaba—Mrs. Isaac Schram, who motored to Cadillac with Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Schram, is now spending several days in Milwaukee to attend graduation exercises at Marquette university, when her son Clayton will receive his degree.

Manistique—Dr. and Mrs. T. R. Southard have returned from Dallas, Tex., where they attended the Rotary International.

Gladstone—Miss Claire Clark, student of Milwaukee Teacher's college, has arrived to spend the summer here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Clark.

Toboggan Ride

Dear Editor:

Governor Williams seems to be worried about a big state deficit that he predicts for next year. Well, so am I. What does he propose to do to prevent it? He suggests bigger payments for this, that and everything else from the state treasury as a sop to voters and then wants a corporation tax to foot the bill.

Maybe Gov. Williams doesn't realize it, but the tax he proposes would delight every state surrounding Michigan because it would mean that Michigan industry would be coaxed into moving out to other states that do not have such tax laws.

The state legislature surely seems cold to this proposition and we can only hope that the lawmakers don't warm up to the governor's idea. If they do, Michigan is headed for a toboggan ride as an industrial state.

School Is Out

Dear Editor:

"School is out, school is out teachers let the monkeys out." That's a rhyme that was quite popular on the closing day of school each year when I was a kid.

Now that another school year has ended, I recall with some emotion my good old school days of years ago, and wonder if this new crop of kids can really appreciate the carefree years of schoolhood. I know that I didn't appreciate it then as I do now.

Just Reminiscing.

Deserves Support

Dear Editor:

Only about twenty-five persons showed up for the Escanaba labor relations committee meeting at the city hall Wednesday night. This poor attendance really was a shame. The committee went to the expense of bringing Mr. Hutchinson from Chicago to give some good advice on how to better relations between the employers and the working men. It was a good talk, and more people should have been out to hear him. We should have more meetings for representatives of management and unions to get together and frenkly discuss their relations problems. Aren't Escanaba citizens interested in the important matters of this community?

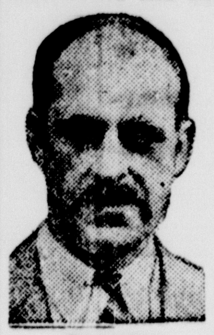
The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON



Pearson

Washington.—When Washington dignitaries gathered at dinner this week to commemorate the Marshall plan probably only one man present really knew how the Marshall plan got started — President Truman. And not even Truman knew or remembered all the details.

The birth of the Marshall plan—believe it or not—was influenced by the illness of Senator Bilbo of Mississippi. Furthermore, this plan—now a great force in revitalizing Europe—was a complete accident as far as the White House was concerned.

President Truman had been scheduled to make a speech at Cleveland, Miss., in the winter of 1947 and called in Dean Acheson, then under-secretary of state, to ask if he could get him out of a jam. He explained that to please some of his wife's friends he had promised to speak in Cleveland, that the folks in Mississippi had made elaborate preparations, and that this was to be the biggest event in the town's history.

But, he said, he couldn't go. Senator Bilbo was back in the state, ill, after the senate's refusal to seat him, and it would be political suicide, Truman felt, if he set foot inside the state at that time. He had written his Mississippi friends, he said, asking if they would accept a cabinet member instead, and they replied that they were greatly interested in foreign affairs and the only man they would take as a substitute was Acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

Acheson of course promptly accepted the president's personal plea, in fact told Truman he had been eager to make a major speech. But, he warned, it would be an explosive one.

HENRY WALLACE'S MISTAKE

So, having in mind Henry Wallace's famous speech on Russia which was officially cleared with the White House—but which Truman himself didn't read, Acheson took great pains to have his speech carefully examined. He asked that it be read by the army-navy, by Economic Adviser Dr. Edwin Nourse, and by the commerce department, as well as by Truman. His strategy was to have so many cabinet experts read it that it would not be sent to Senators Tom Connally and Arthur Vandenberg whom he suspected might pour on the cold water.

The perusers of the speech later held a meeting. Since there was nothing in the speech about bases, the army-navy had no objection. Dr. Nourse suggested a few changes of figures, which were accepted. Secretary of Commerce Harriman, who had been talking to Acheson privately, was enthusiastic, while Truman was delighted that Acheson was getting him out of his Mississippi speaking jam.

After all this preparation, however, the speech got only two or three paragraphs buried inside the newspapers. Few people in the U. S. A. realized that Acheson had launched one of the most important policies since the U. N. or the Monroe Doctrine.

The British press, however, played up the story big. And as a result Scotty Reston of the New York Times called on Acheson to ask whether this was a new American foreign policy.

"You had better ask the White House," Acheson replied.

PLANTED QUESTION

So, at the next White House press conference, Reston asked a carefully worded question as to whether the Cleveland, Miss., speech represented Acheson's views or the administration's views.

Truman, still full of gratitude, and recalling that the army, navy, et al had approved the speech, replied that it represented administration policy.

A few days later, Acheson went to his chief, Secretary of State Marshall, and said in effect: "I have kicked a fairly important ball up in the air for you, but it's falling rapidly. How about catching it and scoring a touchdown?"

This led to another conference with Truman, then to Secretary Marshall's speech, which in the eyes of most people was the beginning of the Marshall plan.

After the speech, Acheson picked up a suggestion by Senator Vandenberg that a committee of prominent Americans be appointed to push the idea. Truman didn't like the suggestion, but Acheson argued him into it.

"Here is a man who more than anything else wants to get the Republican nomination for president of the United States," he told Truman, in effect. "Of his other two rivals, Governor Dewey never says anything about anything, while Senator Taft never loses an opportunity to attack you on domestic issues and crab at you on foreign policy. Vandenberg has played the game very well on bipartisan policy, and you ought to agree to his idea in order to keep him sweet."

THUMBS DOWN ON HOOVER-BARUCH

The president did agree, and a meeting was held to appoint members of a committee to serve under Secretary of Commerce Harriman. Vandenberg was present. Acheson said he didn't care who was on the committee just so long as Herbert Hoover and Bernard Baruch were not.

Vandenberg, however, looking over the suggested names, said he had nothing against them, but that what the committee really needed was an elder statesman as chairman who commanded the respect of the country.

Quickly, Acheson asked Secretary Marshall if he could answer that question, then went on to say that the committee's job was not to sell every filling-station operator on aid to Europe, but to get the cooperation of labor and industry leaders. Therefore the committee should be composed of younger men who were influential with labor and industry. Once their support was enlisted, Acheson argued, the filling-station operators would fall in line. Truman immediately agreed and Acheson's proposed committee was appointed.

And that was pretty much how the Marshall plan really got started.

GI STUDENTS EARN PRAISE

Getting Diploma Means Much Hard Work

By ROBERT C. RUARK

Columbus, O.,—There are all kinds and grades and shapes of valor, for which medals are bestowed. If the bestowal were up to me, I would be handing out a lot of decorations this week to girls named Mary and Jane and Betty, and their husbands, Joe, Jim and Pete. At Ohio State university it is graduation time for 2500 veterans, the finish of the first full cycle of the GI education plan. All over the nation, thousands of weary women are saying thank God the old man's finally won his diploma. Maybe now we can start to live like human beings again.

Ruark

You can cite me the pioneer woman, who birthed her babies in between spring planting and a raid by the hos-tile Injuns, but I don't think she had it much rougher than the women whose husbands were collecting culture and know-how under the GI Bill of Rights. In a nation which was swollen with postwar plenty, these men and women are just emerging from want, for them, has been a bitter apprenticeship.

Lived In Trailers

We paid the veterans, first, 90 bucks a month to feed them while they acquired learning, and later increased it to $120. It is scarcely necessary to say that this contribution, while generous, is not sufficiently elastic to clothe the late-blooming students in coonskin or equip them with yellow roadsters. Especially, as was so often the case, if the militant bookworm was also wearing a wife and child.

The fact that most of them had the guts to keep after an education is almost unbelievable. They put in the full study hours, plus summer school, worked another half-dozen daily hours, boned on their home work, and in their spare time, worked valiantly at the assignment of husband and father.

They lived in trailers, in chopped-up army barracks, in furnished rooms at $17 a week with eight families using one bath. They had budgets so trimmed to the wind that a lost quarter was a tragedy. A sick kid in the trailer was a calamity that could only be answered by a loan shark. I know one recent GI graduate who has been sending installments—on a dead baby—to a hospital for nearly two years.

Somehow, some way, the girls you used to see around the army and navy bases during the war have been the winning ingredient in the postwar battle of the bulging cranium. They managed to spread the monthly grant around, to invest it in diapers and milk and hamburger and rent. They strode staunchly through three years in a trailer settlement, walking a million miles to draw the water, and ministering to each other in a camaraderie born of mutual desperation.

All For Pa's Education

Atop the press of meeting ends, they maneuvered to keep the baby quiet when pa was boning on his political science or animal husbandry. Most of them have had little in the way of clothes or girlish gew-gaws and play-pretties. They sublimated their frailties to the big chore—pa's education.

The old man—who started in as a freshman at an age when pre-war seniors were graduated—has come out of the mill a pretty remarkable fellow. He is a grown man—a little grim, maybe a touch cynical—but he seems to know what he wants and what he's going to do to get it.

He's 24, 25, 26, 27 years old. He reads and thinks and questions. His grades have shown him to be a superior student. Only a superior student could have survived the shanty-town squalor in which so many of them had to live in order to learn. Nearly all, at one time or another, rassled out a rough decision over whether to quit school for the fast buck they needed something awful.

I've talked with a few of our new, old-man, battle-and-peace-scarred graduates of 1949. At least one of them will wind up in the White House, and I will wager that none will ever decorate a relief roll with his name.

RAPID RIVER

Esther Society Meeting

The Esther Society of Calvary Lutheran church of Rapid River will meet Monday afternoon instead of Thursday, the regular meeting day. Pot luck lunch will be served.

INVITE TRUMAN TO MACKINAC ID.

Gov. Williams To Be There In August

Lansing—The boys around the state house are wondering whether President Truman is one of the 'official visitors" who will visit Gov. Wiliams at Mackinac Island this summer.

Williams and his family, and part of the official staff, will spend August at the northern resort. Williams has continually referred to "official visitors" who will go to the island to give vacation days a businesslike flavor.

Lawrence L. Farrell, Williams' executive secretary, declared President Truman will visit the island "if it is at all possible."

This promise was gained from the president last week while Williams and Farrell were in Washington.

Farrell said President Truman explained he wants to stay in Washington until congress adjourns, probably early in August.

W. F. Doyle, resident commissioner of the Mackinac Island park commission, said he can think of no better place for President Truman to visit this summer.

"Many invitations have gone out to presidents in past years, but few have been acepted to visit the wonderland," he said. "I think the last time we had a chief officer of the nation at the island was in the early 1900's when Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks visited the island."

Doyle said a presidential suite at the Grand hotel is ready for the president.

"I know we can make him comfortable," said Doyle.

PLAY PROGRAM IS ANNOUNCED

Recreation Department Names Supervisors

The Escanaba recreation department has made plans for summer play activities at the beach and playgrounds in Escanaba and has appointed instructors and supervisors, George Grenholm, director said this morning.

Arthur Peterson will supervise the municipal beach program and he and Francis Lueneburg will be in charge of instruction. William Hemes, Ed Erickson, Howard Perron and Robert Paterick have been engaged as lifeguards.

Cliff Frasher will supervise the girls' softball program and Jerome Deloria will handle the boys' junior baseball program. Junior baseball is planned daily at the city baseball field and the Webster and 19th street playgrounds. There will also be junior softball at the Webster and 19th street playgrounds with Deloria in charge.

The following schedule is announced for Ludington Park, daily Monday through Saturday:

10:30-1:30—children crafts under Mrs. Bertha LaChapelle

1:30-3:30—pre-school and small childrens' programs with Mrs. LaChapelle.

3:30 to 4:30—general play, with Mrs. LaChapelle supervising

10:30-12, 3-5:30, and 6:30 to 8:30, general playground games, sports activities with Steve Baltic in charge.

Shuffleboard equipment is available at the harbor master headquarters. The recreation department will provide picnic kits to organizations, supplying them with equipment and games to be used at picnics. Archery meets will be conducted at the municipal dock every Tuesday and Thursday evening.

The Youth Center will be closed for the summer season except for youth dances on Tuesday nights. The department also plans to sponsor street dances this summer.

The childrens' wading area at the beach will be supervised daily Monday through Saturday from 1:30 to 5 p. m. Parents are requested to accompany their children at the wading area on Sundays, when no supervision is provided.

Mrs. Jeannette LeCaptain will supervise childrens' crafts programs at the Webster playground on Monday and Wednesday and Friday from 1:30 to 5 p. m. and at Royce Park on Tuesdays and Thursdays. On Monday, Wednesday and Friday childrens' crafts projects will be held at the Barr school from 10 to 11:45 a. m.

WAC-WAF Recruiter In City Next Week

Captain Charlene Hawes, WAC-WAF recruiting officer for the eastern recruiting district will be in Escanaba June 14, 15, and 16 to interview applicants for the Women's Army Corps and the Women's Air Force.

Any young woman 18 to 35 years of age, who is a high school graduate (or can pass an equivalent test) and can pass the physical, mental and character examinations is eligible for enlistment in these branches of the Armed Forces.

Captain Hawes will interview interested young women at the Escanaba recruiting station, 1215 Ludington street, Escanaba, on the above dates during the hours of 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. or in the evening by appointment. The phone number of the recruiting station is 2944.

HOSPITAL

Mrs. Elmer Hakes, Bark River Route 2, is a patient in St. Francis hospital for treatment for a fractured ankle, resulting from a fall.

Dr. K.F. Harrington Heads Dental Society Meet In Menominee

Dr. Kirk F. Harrington, of Escanaba, is president of the Upper Peninsula Dental society which will hold its 32nd annual meeting in Menominee today and tomorrow. The organization held its 1948 meeting in Escanaba.

Dr. P. H. Carroll, of Stephenson is vice president and Dr. R. H. Henes, of Menominee, is secretary-treasurer. The society was formed in Marquette in 1912.

Chief speakers at business sessions at the Menominee Riverside Country club will be Dr. William Mann, of Ann Arbor, and Dr. Roy W. Fonda, of Detroit. Dr. Mann is assistant professor of operative dentistry in the dental school and assistant director of the W. K. Kellogg Foundation Institute. Dr. Fonda was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1916. He is a past president of the eastern component of the Detroit Dental society and is a life member of the Michigan Dental society.

Crank Handles Aid Operation Of Casements

Crank handle operators add much in convenience to casement windows, especially when the windows are covered with screens. The operators may be installed with funds obtained from qualified lending institutions.

Where casement windows swing outward the screen is usually inside of the window making operation impossible without first removing the screen. The crank handle operating device passes through the screen to control the outside window.

Patrick-Bittner

Miss Gladys Patrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Patrick of Schaffer and Reinhold Bittner of Hyde, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kositzky, spoke their marriage vows before Rev. Michael Hale in a ceremony Saturday morning, June 4, at 10 o'clock in Sacred Heart rectory at Schaffer.

In the bridal party were Mrs. Francis LaViolette, the bride's sister, who was matron of honor, Mrs. Gerhardt Bittner, bridesmaid, Gerhardt Bittner who was best man and Francis LaViolette, groomsman.

The bride wore white slipper satin with a fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline, long tapering sleeves and a full skirt with a long train. Her fingertip veil was gathered to a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, carnations and snapdragons with shower ribbons knotted with lilies of the valley. Her aides wore like gowns of yellow and mint green and carried colonial bouquets of carnations and snapdragons.

Mrs. Patrick, the bride's mother, wore a two piece green dress with brown accessories, and Mrs. Kositzky, a black ensemble. Both mothers had corsages of roses and snapdragons.

Guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Darcy Mahan of Hesperia, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. Don Emmorey of Kent City.

One Small Lake, Less Stunted Perch, Plus Trout, Add Up To Good Fishing

Poison is a disagreeable word, but the fish division of the conservation department is using both the word and the poison in a program to make good trout fishing waters of small northern lakes now considered valueless — from the fisherman's point of view.

The poison is a root powder that is used to clear a suitable trout lake of undersized and stunted perch or other pan fish. The powder is mixed with water and then sprayed into the lake with an underwater hose.

Before this is done, however, there has been much background work by the state's fish biologists.

Need Cold Water

Stanley Lievense, fisheries supervisor of the department of conservation, soon to be transferred from Escanaba to Baldwin, says the biological survey of lakes in Michigan was begun as early as 1930. Only lakes with a cold water zone and sufficient oxygen suitable for trout are planted.

"This condition is found in deep clear water lakes, having little vegetation and usually a sandy bottom," Lievense said. "Springs are not necessary. If there is moderately hard water, so much the better for that means more crustaceans as food for trout."

Because water temperature is such a vital factor, biologists test lakes for trout suitability only during the month of August — hottest month of the year. If a lake has a sufficient amount of cold water, although sometimes at depths of 20 feet and lower, it is suitable for trout the year around.

Schaawe a Prospect

The number of trained men available and the short time of the year in which the tests must be made limit the number of suitable lakes discovered each year. There are "numerous" lakes in Northern Michigan yet to be tested, and perhaps among these is Schaawe lake on the Stonington Peninsula near Garth, considered by Lievense as "good prospect for trout."

"Several years of work will be necessary before most of the better prospects will be checked," Lievense added.

The advantages of planting trout in suitable lake waters is "like utilizing an unused room," Livense pointed out.

"The cold water zone of a normally believed warm-water lake is seldom inhabited during the heavy summertime feeding period by the ordinary warm-water game fish," Lievense explained. "By the addition of trout, it is believed that little harm is done to the other fish.

Long Range Program

"Softwater lakes seldom have catchable fish in them. The fish are usually in starved or stunted condition. These lakes, if suited for trout do produce favorable brook trout habitat. Other species of fish do seem to compete with brook trout, however. Best results are obtained by poisoning those normally poor waters before introducing brook trout."

As the years pass and the program is better understood, Northern Michigan residents are expected to request such surveys for suitability, with the aim in view of increasing the number of trout lakes. Criticism of the program, such as occurred last year in one U. P. county, changed to approval as local residents recognized its value.

Once valueless lakes are now good trout fishing waters. Improved fishing brings increased reward to the tourist and resort country. The poisoning of stunted fish to clear a lake for trout is but one phase, however disagreeable, in a valuable long-range program.

TESTING FOR OXYGEN—Ashore with water samples, Lievense is pictured conducting a test called titrating, to determine the amount of dissolved oxygen. Cold water and sufficient oxygen are two important factors in locating suitable trout lakes.

THERMOMETER READING — Stan Lievense, fish biologist for the conservation department, notes the water temperature as recorded on a reversible thermometer. It takes and fixes the temperature at various depths.

First use of gunpowder in artillery was to batter fortifications and it was not used in the field until late in the 15th Cenury.

Commencement At Munising School To Begin Sunday

Munising — Commencement week activities at Mather high school will begin Sunday evening with a baccalaureate service at 8:15 in Mather auditorium for the 1949 graduating class. The sermon will be given by the Rev. Frederick T. Steen, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

Graduation itself will take place at 8:15 Tuesday night in Mather auditorium when Dr. A. A. Mellon, president of the Munising township board of education, presents diplomas to the 65 seniors. The Rev. Arthur C. DeVries, of Marquette, will be the program speaker.

Awards for achievement in science, mathematics, English and commercial subjects will be presented members of the class at that time by the Munising Paper Co. The Co-Op store will also present its award to the student chosen as the most outstanding in the class. The Joel H. Marks award will also be awarded, going to the graduate selected for character and leadership.

Another part of the program will be the presentation of a class memorial, a stone lawn bench by Miss Molly Shirey, senior president.

Three Defendants Put on Probation

Munising—A short regular term of Alger county circuit court ended Wednesday when Judge Herbert W. Runnels placed three criminal case defendants on probation for three years. They were Patrick Kelly and Kenneth Michaels, both charged with breaking and entering in the night time, and Orville Haas, charged with conversion of money to his own use, who was also ordered to make restitution.

Ten civil suits were continued and one, Cornelius Daley vs. James Hebert was stricken from the calendar. Two chancery suits were continued. Two divorces were granted, out of nine on the docket.

Action against Howard Humphrey, charged with gross indecency with another male person, and Joseph DesArmo, charged with indecent liberties with female child, were dismissed. The case of James Moulds, charged with bastardy, was settled out of court.

FAUCET MEASURES WATER

A new self-closing measuring faucet has recently been introduced for use in public and semipublic buildings where the prevention of the wasting of water is desired. The faucet can be adjusted so that a certain measured quantity of water will flow before the unit automatically closes. The new faucet is said to be non-hammering and non-dripping, and the by-pass is non-clogging.

Blood Of Mothers With New Babies Relieves Arthritis

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

New York, (AP)—The blood of mothers who have just had babies has stopped rheumatoid arthritis, cruelest of all forms of rheumatism.

This was reported to the Seventh International Congress on rheumatic diseases here by Dr. L. W. Granirer, of New York.

The relief, he said, was temporary but lasted sometimes from three to twelve weeks. Stiffened joints eased, pain and swelling went down. All patients gained weight. Best results were on people for whom gold salts failed. Gold is one of the numerous treatments for rheumatoid arthritis.

The cause of this form of rheumatism is unknown, but in a Mayo Clinic report there was a possible explanation for the effectiveness of mother's blood.

The Mayo doctors and five other American medical centers have treated 20 persons with this form of arthritis, using a newly discovered hormone from the adrenal glands, which are in the small of the human back. They and the others said the results were surprising. Everyone got better.

Like those on mother's blood, they got better only temporarily, although one woman has been practically well for four months. The Mayo and mother's blood work tie together because during pregnancy women produce more hormones.

At the Mayo Clinic one reason for trying the hormone was the known good effects of mother's blod. Blodo carries all the hormones the body makes.

The new hormone is called compound E, a discovery of Dr. Edward C. Kendall of the Mayo Clinic.

In the entire world, the Mayo men said, there is now only enough of this hormone to treat 20 human beings. Merck &Company, Rahway, N. J., manufacture it, and hope by next year to have enough to treat some thousands. The making is partly synthetic, including 30 chemical steps, and at present quantity production is not possible.

Ex-GI Shot Down At Bologna Comes Back on Honeymoon

Pittsburgh, (AP)—Jack Crawford and his bride are going to spend their honeymoon visiting the people of Bologna, Italy, where he was befriended by Partisans after being shot down over enemy territory in World War II.

After Crawford and Jane Spicher are wed on June 15, they will fly to London, cross to the continent and then bicycle down to Bologna.

Crawford's last visit to the Italian town was five and a half years ago when he arrived by parachute.

He was aided by members of an Italian underground movement known as "Garibaldi 63."

"In the daytime," Crawford said, "the land belonged to the Germans. At night, it belonged to the Partisans. We would hide in a Partisan home, waiting for the Nazis to come. When they took off their coats and tossed their holsters on a chair, we stepped in. We buried the bodies naked and took the clothing and amunition."

That all seems like a dream now, Crawford says. More pleasant things are in the making. The people of Bologna have written they are planning a grand fiesta for the bride and groom from America.

The baths of the ancient world and of the Middle Ages often were used by men and women at the same time.

Bear and bull baiting, popular in Englund for 700 years, were not prohibited by Parliament until 1835.

ACH! IT'S DER ZOAB-POX DERPY — This is a German conception of what a soap-box racer should look like. Race fans gather around the three-wheeled, tub-shaped midget to give it the once over before the Nurnberg Derby. Sponsored by the German Youth Association and copied from the American idea, the derby drew a crowd of 25,000 along the rough, shell-marked course.

Factory Worker Gets Less Goods For His Earnings

By SAM DAWSON

New York, (AP)—Money you make working one hour brings 15 per cent less today than it did in 1939, when you buy house furnishings with it. That's because in this line prices have gone up faster since 1939 than wage rates.

But you really get a break over the factory worker who, on the average hourly pay in 1914 took a bride. An hour's work now brings 100 per cent more in the house furnishings store than it did in 1914. The goods cost you more in cash, but less in the sweat of the brow now than they did in the good old days.

Take one item. If you got married in 1914, you had to work 154 hours at the average factory pay then to get the $38.13 needed for a two-piece parlor suite of imitation mahogany in panne plush upholstery.

If you get married today you work 116 hours to pay for a $171.23 two-piece set, a sofa and club chair, made of hardwood with a walnut finish and high-pile upholstery.

But those who married in 1939 did all right—with a two-piece iving room set, that is. It cost $59.40, or only 82 hours of labor. It was much worse in 1929, when dad paid $111.10 for a similar suite after working 189 hours to get the money.

The figures on the average hourly earnings of the factory worker come from the bureau of labor statistics. The prices of house furnishings come from mail-order catalogs for the years 1914, 1929, 1939 and 1948.

Researchers for the national industrial conference board put the two sets of figures together. They chose house furnishings of like quality and durability in the four years, but ocassionally had to chose the next best thing—today's refrigerator had to be compared with 1914's icebox. The modern item costs 823 per cent more than the old icebox, or $216.95 against $26.35, but most housewives appear to think it's worth the difference.

The average annual house furnishings bill of today's moderate-income family takes 82 hours of work to pay. What a similar family bought in 1914 took 95 hours of labor. But there's a joker in that comparison, because families today spend more proportionately on their house than they did in 1914. If you bought now only what you thought sufficient back in 1914 it would cost you the equivalent of only 48 hours of labor. Or put it the other way. If you had lived on the same scale of comfort in 1914 as today you would have had to work 159 hours to buy that much furniture, even at those low prices.

However, the picture is far less bright, if compared with furniture prices and factory wages in 1939.

Here are some items for which you now have to work more hours than you did before the war (prices of every item are higher now than then, of course):

Living room, dining room and bedroom suites; davenports, studio couch, dresser, steel bedsted and bedsprings; mattress, sheets, blanket, toweling, curtains, table oilcloth; stove, vacuum cleaner; sewing machines and brooms.

It takes fewer hours of labor now to pay for the following than in 1939 (although prices of all are higher today): refrigerators, washing machines, carpet, linoleum, and dinnerware.

While glass tumblers cost about twice as much today as then, it takes exactly the same amount of time at the average hourly earnings of factory workers to pay for them.

And, while all these items named cost more now than in 1929, it takes less when the price is figured in hours of work to pay for all of them, with the one exception of dressers.

In other words, if you're that unlikely specimen, the "average," chances are you are living in a better furnished house than did the man of 1914, and it costs you more in cash but less in sweat of the brow to furnish it and keep it up. But you're not as well off in this regard as in 1939.

This may help answer that question which keeps coming up on the eve of every pay-day: "Where on earth did the money go?"

SPOKE TO GRADS—President Dale Welch of Alma College gave the commencement address at the high school auditorium Thursday evening, speaking on the theme, "Whither Bound."

Graduates Hear Alma College Head Speak

In speaking to the senior class at Manistique on Thursday evening, June 9. President Dale D. Welch of Alma College asked the question, "Whither Bound?" He asked them, first of all, what they proposed to do about further learning and pointed out that real learning did not consist of academic experience and the diplomas and degrees incident thereto. Quoting Nicholas Murray Butler, he reminded the class that the five marks of an educated person were the ability to use correctly and precisely one's mother tongue; the possession of refined and gentle manners; the capacity for reflection; the capacity for growth; and the power to do something worthwhile.

The speaker then asked the young people what they proposed to do about making a living. After pointing out the necessity for earning food, clothing, and shelter, he suggested to the graduates that they learn to do something that the world wants done tomorrow, that they learn it before they assume the responsibilities of a family, and that they learn to do it well.

Dr. Welch then reminded the class that further learning and making a living were not sufficient. He challenged every member of the class to also make a life and cited as an illustration the sacrificial service of Jane Addams who turned her back upon privileges and position to give herself in social service to the needs of those who looked to Hull House as a center of service and inspiration.

The speaker concluded by expressing the hope that the graduates of Manistique high school would so live during the next twenty years that their parents would be as proud of them in 1969 as they are in 1949.

Will Start Beginners for High School Band

Joseph Giovannini, high school band instructor, will be in the band room on the third floor of the junior high school next week, June 13-17 from 9 to 11:30 a. m. for the purpose of enrolling beginning students in band.

All boys and girls who plan to start playing an instrument should get in touch with Mr. Giovannini during the coming week. Parents of boys and girls are asked to call with the children if possible.

Reconditioned instruments are now available and are moderate in price. All flutes, clarinets, saxophones, trumpets, trombones and drums must be furnished by the students. The school owns a limited number of instruments but none are available this year.

Lessons will begin on Monday, June 20 and continue until August 1. The Junior band will also rehearse all summer.

Emotional Upsets May Affect Reading

French Lick Springs, Ind.,—Emotional upsets can account for difficulty in reading in an otherwise intelligent child, Drs. Joseph F. Hughes, Richard Leander, and Gilbert Ketcham of the Pennsylvania hospital in Philadelphia told the American Academy of Neurology here today.

Situations that make the child feel insecure such as family quarrels, rivalries with sisters or brothers, and difficulties in social relationships may result in a specific reading disability, they found.

Psychological causes, such as not being taught proper reading habits, and organic causes which may stem from under-activity of the thyroid gland may also be responsible for poor reading ability. But the investigators believe that no child has a specific reading difficulty without at the same time developing some kind of emotional disturbance.

Treatment, therefore, must include psychotherapy as well as corrective aid in reading, they pointed out.

Boat Concession For Tahquamenon Upheld By Court

Lansing, (AP) — The Ingham county circuit court ruled against the state conservation department Wednesday in its suit against an Upper Peninsula boat concession operator.

The department sought to have Willard LaDuc restrained from operating his boat service at the lower falls of the Tahquamenon River, about 85 miles northwest of Sault Ste. Marie.

The department contended LaDuc was trespassing because he used a dock on state-owned land and a road that ran through state-owned property. It had leased the boat concession to Tom Brown, a rival operator.

Judge Louis E. Coash ruled that the road was open to public access because it had been used by the public for a number of years and because it had been improved by public funds.

LaDuc and Brown operate boats to take sight-seers to an island in the middle of the river for a view of the falls. The suit dated back to last summer.

Medinah Whips Most Pros; Chick Harbert Grinds Out Fine 70

Chicago, June 10 (AP)—The National Open golf championship looks like a Tom, Dick and Harry tournament after the first round with Les Kennedy, one of the lesser-known pros, pacing the field with a two-under par 69.

Kennedy, 31 year old Pawtucket, R. I. shooter, competing in his first open, posted his top ranking score after touring Medinah's treacherous No. 3 course whose par is 36-35—71.

Only five players broke par yesterday in a field of 162 starters in the 49th open tourney. Seven others matched par over the nearly 7,000 yards of Hills and heavy woods.

Kennedy, the red haired Rhode Islander, goes to the post for today's second 18-hole round with a one stroke lead.

Back in 1942, Kennedy was rated with Lew Worsham and Johnny Palmer as the three brightest prospects in golf. The last two went on to grab their share of honors, but Kennedy was banged up in an auto accident in which his wife was killed.

Kennedy, winner of the New England P. G. A. crown for three years in a row, authored eight one-putt greens and chipped in from 20 feet on another to fashion 35-34.

Bunched at 70 were a pair of "unknowns" in big time golf, Chuck Farlow of Greensboro, N. C., and Al Brosch of Garden City, N. Y., plus two big-namers, Chick Harbert and Herman Barron.

Two lesser-lights also were in the 71 bracket—Pete Cooper of Ponte Verde Beach, Fla., and Bus Peelle of Kansas City, Kas.

With them were such illustrious fellows as 53-year-old Bobby Cruickshank, Worsham, the 1947 winner, Palmer, Claude Harmon, the 1948 Masters' titlist, and Ralph Gulddahl, former Medinah pro whose feat of taking the Open in 197 and 1938 is still hot-stove talk.

Five were deadlocked at 72, including amateurs Skee Riegel of Tulsa, Okla., and Jimmy Mc Hale, the insurance salesman from Overbrook, Pa., whose 65 at St. Louis in 1947 still stands as the National Open's single round record.

Sam Snead dug out of the trees for a 73. Bobby Locke, Lloyd Mangrum and Byron Nelson needed 74, veteran Gene Sarazen and Cary Middlecoff settled for 75's. Jimmy Demaret staggered in with an 82, his worst round in years.

The forest caused most of the trouble. Demaret and Vic Ghezzi played tag among the oaks on the 580-yard No. 7 for horrendous 8's. The super 445-yard dogleg of the 13th kicked out another 8 for Chandler Harper.

Amateur Frank Stranahan fell into the also-ran class by equalling Demaret's 82.

Favoritism has shifted heavily to such steady leaders as Palmer, Barron and Harbert. Hard-hitting Harbert was especially impressive with a smooth chore of 17 pars and a one sub par for his 70.

Many observers still think this may become another "Parks" Open. Sam Parks, Jr., rose from obscurity to win the coveted crown in 1935 and hasn't been heard from since. Such hopefuls as leader Kennedy, 70-shooters Farlow and Brosch and 71'ers Cooper and Peelle are trying to prove them right.

The balding, be-goggled Brosch is 37 and has been in all but one National Open since 1936. He finished sixth in his first try and hasn't come that close since.

Farlow is a 39-year-old ex-caddy who has monopolized titles in South Carolina during 25 years of campaigning but has been just another Joe out of his home state. He was with the famous Sixth Armored Division during the last war. His wife and five-year old daughter were so certain he wouldn't make a dent in yesterday's opening round that they went to a nearby zoo instead of watching him play.

The 30-year-old Peelle another former links "pack-rat", is the rankest outsider of the lot. The most he has ever won as a pro was $145 in the Phoenix pro-amateur matches last winter. He played in five other meets on the tour and didn't get within ear-shot.

Peelle's only other chance in the National Open was last year when he fired a first round 77 and promptly withdrew.

Winners Announced In Women's Golf At Escanaba Club

Blind bogey winners in Escanaba Golf club women's golf this week were Mrs. Harry Hogan, Mrs. Glenn W. Jackson, Mrs. G. W. Benson and Mrs. Jean Smith.

Mrs. Harry Needham shot a commendable 46 for the day's low gross score, and Mrs. Gene Knop had a 64, which with a handicap of 25 gave her the day's low net of 39. Among the day's low scores were Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Smith 54s; Mrs. John R. Taggert and Mrs. Everett Cole 53's and Mrs. Paul Wohlen's 52.

Undefeated Rivals Perkins, Cooks Clash In Top Bay de Noc Feature

Perkins, June 10—Perkins and Cooks, the only two teams in the Bay de Noc league who have a perfect record to date, will fight it out for the loop leadership here Sunday afternoon. A large crowd is expected to see this early season natural.

Manager Joe Richards of the Perkins team is the calmest person in these parts in anticipation of the showdown battle with the defending champion Cooks aggregatin. "If my boys play the way they did against Garden last Sunday, I am very confident that we will come out on top," Richards declared this morning.

Members of the Perkins team have received new warmup jackets which will be monogrammed as soon as the monograms are received.

Richards had a word of praise for Stanley Deloria at third last Sunday, for Buddy Norden going after the high ones, for Giles Richards, first baseman, and for Jimmy Gibbs for backing up the infield and keeping up a running line of pep-provoking chatter.

Perkins is interested in home-and-home eevning practice series. Managers of other teams in the area are requested to get in touch either with Jimmy Gibbs in Perkins or Joe Richards in Brampton.

Other Bay de Noc games on tap this Sunday are Nahma at Rapid River, Cornell at Fayette and Rock at Garden.

Having tasted victory for the first time last Sunday at the expense of Garden, the Cornell pluggers are going all out to take Fayette this Sunday.

Professional Jet Lassies Take Over Memorial Field

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS
SPORTS
"It Seems To Me"
BY JIM WARD

We have a request to make of all twilight golf league secretaries or chairmen or whoever is charged with the responsibility of making up and reporting pairings for each week's play in Escanaba, Gladstone and Manistique.

* * *

We should like to start reporting the results of each week's play as well as the pairings. In that way this page will better serve its purpose as a disseminator of sports news and not be merely a golf bulletin board.

* * *

That has long been a sore spot with us, this practice of publishing pairings week after week and never a word about what happened in those matches, who beat whom, what team triumphed and some highlights about the individual play.

* * *

That is what makes interesting reading for you sports fans. You don't care particularly that Joe Blow is playing Peter Q. Zilch. Joe and Pete are interested, of course, because they can call each other up and say they'll be half an hour late. But you, the sports fan, don't give a hoot about it. Better it be posted on the club bulletin board or at the first tee.

* * *

What you're interested in is what Joe Blow did to Peter Q. Zilch, or vice versa. In other words, wha' hoppened!!! Who beat whom.

* * *

But we're willing to go along with the publishing of pairings each week, although sometimes we feel we might just as well tear a page out of the telephone book and run that, IF we can get the results for publication after the matches are played.

* * *

We'd like very much to get the team match result and score and as many highlights of individual play as a much-harassed twilight league secretary or chairman can cram into his report.

* * *

If the twilight league secretaries come through this summer like the bowling league secretaries came through last winter, we should be very happy.

* * *

Honest, all we want to do right now is give you the best sports page in the Upper Peninsula.

St. Paul Saints Trounce Toledo

By the Associated Press

Almost everybody in St. Paul got into the act last night as the American Association league leaders rode rougshood over Toledo, 22 to 2.

The Saints exploded for 11 runs in the third inning. Earl Naylor led the 21-hit attack on three Toledo pitchers with four hits, including an eighth inning grand slam homer.

Indianapolis, which trails St. Paul by only five percentage points, kept pace by pasting Minneapolis, 10-6. Center Fielder Tom Saffell blasted three home runs, a double and a single. He drove in half his team's total runs and scored five times himself.

Louisville dropped Kansas City deeper into the Association cellar by defeating the Blues, 8-2.

Columbus took advantage of four Milwaukee errors and handed the slipping Brewers their fifth straight setback, 9-3.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Philadelphia — Phillies and Pittsburgh Pirates played in 18 innings, longest game in the major leagues since 1946, before Phils won, 4-3.

Birmingham, England — Louise Brough, Beverly Hills, Calif., won women's singles final of Priory Lawn Tennis tournament, defeating Mrs. Margaret Osborne du Pont, Bellevue, Del., 6-4, 6-3.

New York—Voluntary retirement of Orban (Red) Sanders, backfield star of New York Yankees in All-America Conference, was announced by his coach.

Waubung Junior Baseball Season Opens This Sunday

They're going to boot the lid of the Waubung Junior Baseball league schedule Sunday afternoon when Chatham invades Escanaba to battle the Cubs, eleventh district champions of last season, Munising goes to Gladstone and Manistique journeys to Trenary.

The starting Escanaba lineup will be announced by Coach Al Ness tomorrow.

The starting battery for Manistique will be Harbick on the mound and Demers behind the plate.

Second year men for the team are: Harold Krusic, Gerald Anderson, Robert H. Carlson, Joseph E. Halvorson, Tom G. Tyrrell, Russel J. Demers, Robert O. Weber, Jack Reque, Donald Harbick, Frances Ekdahl. New men on the team are: Paul Hough, Delor La Foille, Richard Burnis, Clyde Rogers, William Corson, and Howard Strasler.

Connie Mack Happy About Dick Fowler

Chicago, June 10 (AP)—Connie Mack is wearing a contented expression — Dick Powler's 12-inning 1-0 shutout of the Chicago White Sox last night meant more to the Philadelphia Athletics than just another victory.

Mack said a week ago that Fowler—lanky righthander who towers six feet, four inches—was the "key man" in his pitching picture.

If the big boy could overcome the bursitis condition that gave him arm trouble last season and in the first weeks of this campaign, Mack said he felt the A's pennant chances were better than good.

Last Saturday, Fowler set down the Cleveland Indians for his second win against three losses — but Mack still wasn't certain the tall Canadian army veteran was on the road to recovery.

Last night's performance was as good an indication as Mack can expect.

MSC-Irish Grid Tilt Is a Sellout Already

East Lansing, June 10 (AP) — A sellout for the football game with Notre Dame here Nov. 5 was announced today by Michigan State college.

Lyman L. Frimodig, in charge of ticket sales, said it was the earliest sellout in MSC history. Any checks or applications for tickets received after today will be returned he said.

A total of 50,000 seats were made available for the meeting with the Irish.

Jeffries Celebrates Fight Anniversary

Burbank, Calif., June 10 (AP) — Jim Jeffries celebrated his 50th anniversary of his winning of the world's heavyweight championship last night in appropriate style.

A host of celebrities turned out at his Burbank fight arena, Jeffries barn, to watch an amateur boxing card.

Jeffries won his title by knocking out Bob Fitzsimmons at Coney Island back in 1899.

Duke's golf team has won the Southern Conference championship 11 of the last 12 times.

Much Fun Assured In Softball Show; Shadow Ball, Too

Shadow ball, the likes of which you have never seen before, is only part of the feature attraction at Memorial Field tonight when the classy lassies from Milwaukee, the professional Jets, no less, play the Knights of Columbus.

The show gets off the road and on the playing field at 9:15, but preceding the "piece de resistance" of the evening will be a rousing game between Liberty Loans and White Birch at 7:30.

It's a sure-fire attraction, Paul Vardigan reports. The girls are the 1948 Wisconsin champions and are known on the circuit as "one of the newest and best attractions in outdoor entertainment." They add a touch of glamor to their capable softball in that they are beautifully uniformed and fill the uniforms very well.

Coached by Pete San Filippo, popular Milwaukee manager, the Jets who will appear here tonight are Jackie Mattson, Bunny Scheer, Marge Peters, Ann Sikorski, Louise Cibulka, Vivian Sheriffs, Elaine Rutz, Yvonne Kuchnowski, Jackie Schmidt, Rose Vicari, Kay Reidt, Dolores Spoerl, Jeanne Bishop, Marion Reible and Beatrice Ohswaldt.

A's Sweep Sox Series

Chicago, June 10 (AP) — The smallest crowd of the Comiskey park this season saw Philadelphia score a 12th inning run without the aid of a base hit to sweep a three-game series with a 1 to 0 game.

Tigers Whittle Yanks Margin To 3½ Games

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Credit the Detroit Tigers with stopping the New York Yankee cakewalk in the American league.

With fan attention focused on the St. Louis Cards' sizzling spurt in the National, the hustling Tigers have been giving Casy Stengel a rough time.

Stengel's Yanks took a 6-game lead into Detroit after Sunday's split in St. Louis. Now the margin is 3½ and sinking fast. Red Rolfe's Tigers have won eight of their last 10 games.

Art Houtteman, a young man who nearly lost his life in a serious auto crash at Lakeland, Fla. in spring training time, did the latest job on the Yanks—a six-hit, 9-5, Tiger triumph. It was the Yanks' fourth straight loss, three to Detroit.

Last year Houtteman, the tough luck kid, won only two and lost 16. He dropped his first eight starts. Already he has a 3-1 record for '49 with prospects of a fine season.

With Houtteman, Virgil Trucks (8-3), Hal Newhouser (6-5) and Freddie Hutchinson (3-2) taking a regular turn, the Tigers rate as real pennant contenders.

Hoot Evers, who was shoved over from center field to left to make room for rookie Johnny Groth, was a one-man team yesterday. He banged out a triple, double and three singles for five hits, scored three runs and drove in two more.

Dick Starr, a non-winner who has lost seven, finally made the victory column, 11-0, as the St. Louis Browns made merry with Ellis Kinder, Chuck Stobbs and Frank Quinn. It was the first shutout thrown by a Brownie pitcher this season and the Red Sox's seventh defeat in their last nine games.

Howie Pollet, back in his 1946 form, whipped the slumping New York Giants with six hits, 4-1, as the Cardinals made it six straight wins and 15 out of 17. Pollet, with five straight victories, might have hurled the third St. Louis shutout of the series sweep but for an unearned run in the sixth following Eddie Kazak's error.

Bob Hall, a Johnny-come-lately in Billy Southworth's starting rotation, turned back Cincinnati with seven hits as Boston romped home with a 10-2 decision. It was Hall's second start and first since May 20.

Bill Salkeld hit the only homer of the game, in fact the only one of the day in the National.

The Phillies squeaked past Pittsburgh, 4-3, in 18 innings, the longest game in the majors since 1946. Del Ennis' single, a double by Andy Seminick and Jack Mayo's fly ball broke it up in the 18th, after Murry Dickson had hurled 11 scoreless relief innings.

Dickson, who has trouble hitting the winner's circle since he was purchased for $125,000 from St. Louis, suffered his ninth loss despite the fine effort. Jim Konstanty shut out the Pirates in the last nine innings to earn his first victory of the year.

Scheduled play will start next week.

New Twilight Golf Plan Makes Successful Debut

ESCANABA TWILIGHT LEAGUE STANDINGS

Teams	W.	L.

S. R. Venne	1	0
W. P. Schuldes	1	0
B. W. Hall	1	0
G. R. Stegath	0	1
Gust Asp	0	1
Dr. J. J. Walch	0	1
H. J. Norton	0	1

In the most successful Twilight league turnout in years at the Escanaba Golf club—70, no less—the M. N. Smith, S. R. Venne, W. P. Schuldes and B. W. Hall teams emerged victorious in match play but were beaten by the G. R. Stegath, Gust Asp, Dr. J. J. Walch and H. J. Norton lineups in medal play.

All of which indicates beyond a shadow of a doubt how those handicaps figure into play. They come in handy.

The standings above are based on match play. This plan will be used throughout the season in rotated competition among the eight eight-man teams. A team will get one point for winning a match. Standings will be published each week.

The eight-team plan was used for the first time this week and was adjudged a big success. Team captains are urged to contact members of their team by telephone to be sure they're on hand for each match.

In individual match play, one point is awarded for each nine holes and one for the 18. Either nine or 18-hole matches can be played.

Pairings for play next Tuesday will be published Saturday.

Jockey Logan Batcheller, riding sensation of the Florida winter season, had never seen a race horse—much less a race track—until he went to work two-and-a-half years ago at Hialeah for Trainer Paul Kelly.

Demands from Hialeah race track patrons for the color post card of Citation exceed the combined requests for the other five cards offered free by the track.

Beach, Wading Area Open At Ludington Park Here June 15

The municipal beach will open at Ludington Park on June 15, George Grenholm, recreation director, announced today. The wading area for youngsters, in the lagoon adjacent to the old bath house, will also open June 15 and will be supervised Monday through Saturday.

A wading beach for adults will be constructed at the south end of Ludington park. A bulldozer will start work on the project tomorrow.

New small children's swings and a steel slide are on order and will be installed at the beach within the next two weeks, to augment playground equipment now being set up there.

Shanghai Shipping Tied Up by Fear of Mines in Yangtze

Shanghai, June 10 (AP)—A lone plane appeared in the vicinity of Lunghwa airport today, and residents heard sharp explosions that may have been small bombs.

Airport officials were unable to identify the plane. They said the field was not damaged. There were reports it was a Nationalist plane.

The incident occurred as Shanghai buckled down to a tieup of foreign shipping by reported mines in the Yangtze estuary. The closing of the lower river to shipping caused apprehension over Shanghai's power situation. Power producers are running short of fuel oil, which is enroute.

The mines, real or phantom, have locked two foreign vessels in port. They are the American owned China victory and the British owned Shenking. All other foreign shipping has been diverted while Communist officials investigated reports that a Nationalist ship yesterday laid the mines.

Air Force Deserter Convicted; Posed as Woman Fire-Eater

Burtonwood, Eng., June 10 (AP)—An air force court martial convicted Delbert E. Hill today of desertion for his four-year absence as "Donna Delbert," girl fire-eater on the English Music Hall stage.

Hill, who told the court he left the air force just after being assigned to duty as a latrine orderly following Japan's surrender in 1945, was sentenced to serve two years at hard labor. He also was ordered given a bad conduct discharge. The airman, a 35-year-old Philadelphian, denied he was a deserter.

He said he always intended to come back to the air force, was merely absent without leave, and pleaded innocent to a charge of deserting in 1945 "to avoid hazardous duty."

RULES

1. The Contest is open to everybody, men, women and children. Contest opens with the legal fishing season and closes on September 15. Envelopes containing entries must bear a postmark not later than September 15, 1949, to be eligible.

2. All fish entered in the contest must be caught in public waters of Upper Michigan during the open season in the respective fish class.

3. Contest is limited to fish taken with hook and line. Any legal lure may be used. Lake trout must be caught on a rod or line freely held in the hand and not attached to a boat.

4. All information asked for on the entry blank should be supplied. Failure to give length and girth may disqualify entries. Fish must be weighed on tested scales and measured with a steel tape measure, the length taken from the end of the lower jaw with the mouth closed to the tip of the tail, and the greatest girth of the fish taken. Weight may be given dressed or in the round or both.

5. In the wall-eyed pike and black bass classes a photograph is desirable to be sure of identity of the species.

6. In the event of two or more fish weighing and measuring exactly the same, identical trophies will be awarded. Greatest measurements will decide the winner when weights are approximately equal.

7. Accompany your entry with a photograph of yourself or the fish or both together with a brief story of how, where and when the fish was caught. A photograph is not essential to win an award but it is desirable.

8. The entry blank printed above, or an exact copy must be used. It must be signed by the person catching the fish and by two witnesses who examined the fish and verified its weight and measurements. The contestant agrees, if requested to do so by the judges, to furnish an affidavit attesting to the truth of all statements made in the entry.

9. Contestants may make as many entries in all classes as they wish.

PRIZE AWARDS

In each of the classes the angler entering the fish which is adjudged to be the largest in its class will receive a trophy in recognition of his or her accomplishment.

Additional blanks may be had free of charge by addressing Outdoors Editor, Escanaba Daily Press, Escanaba, Michigan.

Commission Set Up To Promote United Michigan

Straits of Mackinac. The results of past surveys on bridge, tunnel and ferry projects will be examined and further surveys will be undertaken.

"But the committee's task will be broader than that. I want it also to explore the possibility of improving water communications between the lower peninsula and such points as Menominee and Escanaba across Lake Michigan.

"I want it to look into methods of improving the exchange of news and information and fuller use of the upper peninsula's matchless recreational facilities by all of our people.

"The future prosperity of Michigan depends upon a long range program of knitting the peninsulas together so that Michigan will be one commonwealth, not only in law, but also in fact."

BRIEFLY TOLD

Admitted To Bar — Nicholas Chapekis, of Escanaba, recent graduate of the University of Michigan law school, was admitted to the bar before Judge Glenn W. Jackson at a special session of Delta county circuit court here yesterday. His admission was moved by Wheaton L. Strom, Escanaba attorney, and supported by Delta county Probate Judge William J. Miller and Marquette county Probate Judge Carroll C. Rushton. Chapekis recently was named an associate of Wheaton L. Strom, First National Bank building.

Britain Threatened By Railway Strike; Traffic Is Crippled

London, June 10 (AP)—A union leader appealed to Prime Minister Clement Attlee yesterday to prevent a general railway strike which would paralyze Britain's hard-pressed economy.

The railway executive, which runs Britain's state-owned rail lines, broke off negotiations with the National Union of Railwaymen (NUR) for a 10 shilling (two dollar) a week raise yesterday.

It said it would not discuss wage issues on a nationwide basis until the wildcat "sunday only" strikes of workers on the lines from London to the northeast are settled. The executive said to do so would be to act "under duress".

J. B. Figgins, secretary of the NUR, said "if the railway executive prefers to provoke the men that is their responsibility" but he addressed an appeal to the prime minister to step in personally "to prevent a possible national stoppage and dislocation of work on British railways."

The unauthorized Sunday strikes, called to protest work schedules which keep some of the men away from home over night, have crippled holiday traffic for the past three week-ends. Another one is scheduled for Sunday. Workers in other sections of England have threatened to join it.

Tucker Indicted For Mail Fraud

The indictment charges that a total of $28,000,000 was spent by the defendants on the promption and building of the car. The sources of the money were sales of dealer franchises, all of class A stock and accessories for cars sold before delivery of the automobiles.

Judge Barnes fixed bond at $25,000 each for Tucker, Cerf, Pierce and Karsten. The bail for the others was set at $10,000 each.

The defendants are accused of taking advantage of the unusual postwar consumer demand for cars and spreading "false and fraudulent statements and representations relating to a proposed completely new automobile * * * which was represented to possess and combine features of advanced construction and design not heretofore contained in any mass produced automobile."

Rural Home Burns In Branch County; 2 Children Perish

Coldwater, Mich., June 10 (AP)—Two children were burned to death and their mother was injured today when fire destroyed their rural home near Girard in Branch county.

Carol Ann Courtright, 2, was killed in the blaze. Her brother, William, jr., 9, died a short time later at the Community Health Center here. The mother, Louise, was taken to the same hospital with severe burns.

Investigations said Mrs. Courtright apparently tried to kindle a stove in the three-room home with gasoline. The father was at work at the time and another child, Russell, 7, escaped without injury.

Four File Petitions For Naturalization

Four petitions for naturalization were filed yesterday in Delta county, it was announced by Francis W. Reede, examiner for the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service, who spent the day at the court house in Escanaba.

Naturalization petitions were filed by Nicholeta Rouman, Gladstone; Maximilian Piontek, Bark River Rt. 1; Adele Tousignant, Escanaba; and Michael Bernard McCann, Gladstone Rt. 1.

Senators Want Aid To Europe Reduced

Pressure Against Slash In Funds Resented

Washington, June 10 (AP)—Senator McKellar (D-Tenn) today shouted at ECA boss Paul Hoffman: "The sooner you resign, the better it will be for the United States."

The veteran chairman of the Senate appropriations committee openly accused Hoffman of trying to bully the committee into not cutting European recovery funds.

Hoffman coldly denied he tried to put any "pressure" on the committee.

Some senators said they will press for a cut in the recovery funds even if it means Hoffman's resignation.

The ECA chief yesterday gave the Senate appropriations committee a hint—which he confirmed later to reporters—that he will quit if recovery funds are cut too much. He was recalled to continue his testimony this morning.

The House voted $3,568,470,000 for the recovery job, with authority for the ECA to spend the money in 10½ months if necessary.

Hoffman told the Senate group he would try to get along on this amount although he believes it will take $4,000,000,000 for the full 12 months.

Death Edict Given Fourth Time For Killer Jake Bird

Tacoma, Wash., June 10 (AP)—Noose-cheating Jake Bird, often doomed but never hanged, heard his death sentence pronounced for the fourth time yesterday.

In a brief court session, the talkative Negro was cut short by Superior Judge Hugh Rosellini before he could commence his customary courtroom oration. He was sentenced to hang July 15 at the state penitentiary at Walla Walla.

Since his conviction for slaying Mrs. Bertha Kludt Oct. 30, 1947, the 48-year-old transient has heard his death sentence pronounced three times, but each time won a stay of execution.

Bird's various appeals and drawn-out legal maneuvers have taken him into 14 courtrooms and sent his case twice to the U. S. supreme court.

He has admitted complicity in 44 killings throughout the country.

Bird brought out his famous 'hex" again yesterday in a brief verbal exchange with James Faber, Tacoma News Tribune reporter. Angered by a remark of Faber's, Bird told the reporter he was not long for this world.

Six persons on whom Bird has pronounced the hex have died.

Menominee Search Case Going Higher

Judge Jackson's Ruling Will Be Appealed

Menominee, Mich., June 10 (AP)—Prosecuting Attorney Victor A. Lundgren, Jr., said today he has been requested by the attorney general's office to appeal a decision by which it was ruled a Michigan conservation warden is not a peace officer.

The ruling was made Wednesday by Circuit Judge Glenn W. Jackson who said a warden can not search for firearms outside of a home under immunity granted peace officers in a 1936 state constitutional amendment.

The decision involved the case of Adolph Bissonette, of Menominee, who was arrested in 1947 just before the deer hunting season for carrying a rifle in his car. Michigan law bans transportation of a gun through game country within 15 days of a hunting season.

Bissonette was ordered to pay a $25 fine in justice court, however he refused to comply and appealed to circuit court on the grounds the rifle had been illegally seized and could not be used as evidence.

Judge Jackson, ruling in favor of Bissonette, said a warden is not a peace officer and could not act under the amendment.

Lundgren said the Assistant Attorney General Nicholas V. Olds, who advised him to appeal the ruling, told him he had nothing against Bissonette, but wanted to use the matter as a test case.

RUSS WEAPONS APPEAR CRUDE

But They're Good, Says Military Analyst

Washington,—The Red Army's weapons often look rough and unfinished, even crude, but they should never be underestimated on that account, warns Capt. B. H. Liddell Hart, well-known English military analyst, in the technical journal, Ordnance, published here. The Germans made that error—and had to unlearn it the hard way.

When the Nazi forces attacked Russia in 1941 they soon discovered that the rifles and machine guns in the hands of their Soviet opponents were more modern than their own, with better fire rates.

The Russian mortars, states Capt. Hart, "were so simple in construction and roughly finished that they looked like the product of a village blacksmith, yet they were most efficient. Their apparent crudeness was far outweighed by the advantage of rapid output."

The Red Army's great weapon-superiority over the German foe, however, lay in their tanks, declares the English writer. This was not true at the outset, for the Russians were caught in a transition period between an obsolescent model which they possessed in numbers and a newer type not yet in mass production. So in the initial campaign the Nazis "cleaned up" on the Russians.

However, by the time the second phase of the war set in, the newer tanks were ready, and after that the advantage remained with the Soviet forces. The newer Russian tanks were low-built, presenting more difficult targets. They had wide treads, enabling them to maneuver on soft ground, particularly in spring, when the sandy soil of the Russian plain became a miry mud that bogged down the ponderous German "Tiger" tanks. These newer tanks were modifications of an American model, the Christie tank, which the inventor sold to the USSR after he had been repeatedly turned down by U. S. Army authorities, Capt. Hart adds.

Like much of the rest of the Russian equipment, their tanks had a rough and unfinished appearance. They were not even painted. They were cramped and uncomfortable inside, exceedingly tiring to any crew less tough than the Red soldiers, and they were lacking in most of the radio and optical aids considered essential by Western tank commanders. But they had good guns, they could be depended on to keep going, and they could be produced rapidly in the hard-pressed Soviet factories. Most important of all, they could fight.

Funeral Insurance Banned in Michigan

Lansing, (AP)—Legislation forbidding the selling of life insurance by funeral concerns was signed into law Tuesday by Governor Williams.

"It has been alleged," the governor said, "that this type of insurance is one of the few kinds available to people of the Negro race. I intend to appoint a committee of citizens to make a thorough investigation of these charges of discrimination in the issuance of life insurance policies."

The new law is designed to forbid funeral concerns from selling life insurance policies in which the concerns are the beneficiaries.

The governor also approved legislation which permits local governments to assess Camp Grayling property in Crawford county at 50 per cent of the assessment of the property before the state acquired it. Osceola and Kalkaska countys already have this authority.

Angry Solon Gives Witness SOB Title At Senate Hearing

Washington, June 10 (AP)—In an angry scene, Senator Eastland (D-Miss) dismissed C. B. Baldwin who was Henry Wallace's campaign manager, from the witness chair of the Senate hearing today and called him a S. O. B. in the full-words version.

Baldwin had refused to answer a question whether or not he is or has been a member of the Communist party, and had accused Eastland of "fighting against Negro rights."

Baldwin, former administrator of the farm security administration, also had shouted that Eastland represented "the cotton council," an organization which Baldwin said is made up of "plantation owners."

The hearings were by a Senate judiciary subcommittee on bills that would require the registration of Communist and Communist-front organizations.

Baldwin appeared as secretary-treasurer of the Progressive party. He had a prepared statement which called the bills "part of the anti-Communist hysteria that has been whipped up since the end of the war."

But he never got to read the statement.

Yanks Sign 18-Year Old Michigan Hurler

Detroit, June 10 (AP)—The New York Yankees today grabbed off a redhot Michigan high school pitcher, Ken Beardslee, for their Beaumont, Texas, farm club.

Ray Meyers, Yankee scout who lives in Detroit, said he signed the 18-year-old righthander last night at Beardslee's home town of Vermontville. Meyers said he is not a bonus player. No details of the contract were disclosed.

Beardslee, a 6-foot 1-inch righthander, pitched eight no-hit games in his high school career, during which he won 17 games and lost only one.

His outstanding record attracted scouts from at least five Major League clubs to Vermontville to see him pitch. He graduated from high school last month and the Yankee Scout came up with the best offer.

Tiger Fans Getting Very Pennant-Happy

Detroit, June 10 (AP)—The Tigers' pennant possibilities were the chief topic of conversation in every section of the city today and the consensus was that they had an outside chance.

Surveying the records of 12 wins in their last 15 games, Manager Red Rolfe declared, "I am not saying where we will finish, but we will surprise a lot of people."

Rolfe indicated that his players' confidence in themselves was definitely on the upswing after they tamed the New Yorkers three times to climb to within 3½ games of the league leaders.

"That series might be just the thing to get the ball club really rolling," he added.

Free Haircuts For Senate Irk House Members

Rep. Keefe (R-Wis) followed with vague references to a $603,395 allotment for "miscellaneous" Senate expenses not otherwise identified. Because of "comity" (courtesy) between the two branches Keefe said he would desist from giving the details.

The senatorial mineral water flowed back into debate a few moments later when the House passed a bill giving each of its members a "base" increase of $3,000 annually for another clerk and an annual allowance of $500 per member for official telephone and telegraph charges.

When temporary pay raises are considered, the increase in the clerk's hire allowance is about $4,500 per members. The bill does not affect senatorial allowances which now are much higher than those of the representatives.

Rep. Shafer (R-Mich) told the House the amount involved isn't much more than is appropriated for mineral water for senators.
